Pennsylvania-breds pace region at November sales

Pennsylvania-bred graded stakes winners Roses for Debra and Neecie Marie each brought seven figures in separate November sales and head to broodmare careers on opposite sides of the world.

Roses for Debra sold for $2.4 million to top the Keeneland November sale on a bid by Mandy Pope's Whisper Hill Farm as part of the opening session Nov. 5. Bred by Blackstone Farm, she won nine of 16 starts and earned $821,618, topped by victories in the Caress Stakes-G3 in 2023, the Giant's Causeway-G3 in 2024 and the Presque Isle Downs Masters-G2 also this year. The daughter of Liam's Map and the Bernardini mare Essential Rose raced for John O'Meara through the first eight starts of her career. Everett Dobson's Cheyenne Stable bought into her after a victory in the Caress at Saratoga. Trained by Christophe Clement, she added the Smart N Fancy Stakes that summer and then won two of five starts this year.

Roses for Debra sold for $120,000 as a short yearling at Keeneland January and went through the ring again that year, at Keeneland September, for $25,000.

At Fasig-Tipton's November sale Nov. 4, Neecie Marie was one of 26 broodmares and broodmare prospects to bring $1 million or more. Japan's Lake Villa Farm made the winning bid. Bred by Jon Marshall, Neecie Marie won six of 15 starts for owner

Michael Milam and trainer Butch Reid while piling up earnings of $1,154,688. The daughter of Cross Traffic and the Posse mare Lode Lady cost $25,000 at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic as a yearling and broke her maiden for that claiming price at Parx Racing in May 2023. Switched to turf in her next start, she won again and went on to capture the Mrs. Penny Stakes at Parx that summer and place in two graded stakes in New York.

In 2024, she won the Beaugay Stakes-G3 in May, finished second in the New York Stakes-G1 in June, was third in the Grade 2 Beverly D. at Colonial in August and won the $1 million Light and Wonder Ladies Marathon-G3 at Kentucky Downs in September. She capped her career with a fifth in Keeneland's Dowager-G3 at Keeneland in October.

Also at Fasig-Tipton, Roses for Debra's 4-year-old half-sister Rosie's Alibi sold for $725,000 to England's Blandford Bloodstock. Trained by Mike Trombetta for MyRacehorse, the daughter of Justify won three times this year and four overall, including a victory in the Princess of Sylmar Stakes at Presque Isle Downs July 29. Also bred by Blackstone, she cost $625,000 as a Saratoga yearling.

Pennsylvania-bred mare Factor One, the dam of 2024 Breeders' Cup Filly and Mare Sprint-G1 winner Soul of an Angel, sold for $350,000 to Hanzly Albina. Not in foal, the 10-year-old daughter of The Factor, bred by Diamond Crest Farm and unplaced in six lifetime starts, has also produced three-time winner Eddiemush. Maryland-bred Asawer, a 4-year-old daughter of Nyquist out of top regional broodmare How My Heart Works, sold for $310,000 at Keeneland while carrying her first foal by Essential Quality. Bred by Bowman and Higgins Stable, Asawer was a $200,000 yearling at Timonium and went for $450,000 (also at Timonium) as a 2-year-old. On the racetrack, she never won in six starts but placed in the U.A.E. Oaks-G3 at Meydan Racecourse in Dubai. Sold by Buck Pond Farm, the bay is a half-sister to stakes winner Monday Morning QB from the family of Grade 1 winners Well Armed and Cyberknife. Asawer's siblings have topped the last two Fasig-Tipton Midlantic yearling sales.

Also at Keeneland, New Jersey-bred Girl Trouble – a multiple stakes-winning half-sister to Grade 1 winner Book'em Danno – sold for $300,000 to Penfolds Bloodstock. Bred by Greg Kilka and Bright View Farm, the racing or broodmare prospect cost Swilcan Stable $15,000 as a Timonium yearling and won five times for Swilcan and LC Racing while trained by Reid. The daughter of Fast Anna did not race beyond May 2024, but sold for $235,000 in July.

Green Up, bred in Virginia by Althea Richards out of a half-sister to Just Call Kenny, sold for $250,000 to Stonehaven Steadings as a racing or broodmare prospect after winning five times, placing in two graded stakes and earning $418,098 in 10 starts. Leonard Mattingly paid $10,000 for the daughter of Upstart as a yearling at the 2020 Midlantic sale, and sold her privately to Team Valor International after a second in her debut in May 2021. With trainer Todd Pletcher, she won her first four starts at 3, including the Boiling Springs at Monmouth and Cathryn Sophia at Parx. At 4, she took the Pumpkin Pie at Aqueduct and placed in Keeneland's Doubledogdare-G3 in two starts, and returned this year to finish third in Santa Anita's Beholder Mile-G1.

Wet My Beak, bred in Maryland by Sycamore Hall Thoroughbreds, sold for $200,000 to Dixiana Farms at Keeneland while in foal to Jack Christopher. The Union Rags mare won three of six starts, including a Pimlico maiden in 2022, before going on to capture the Senator Ken Maddy Stakes at Santa Anita last year. She is from a deep Sycamore Hall family including her stakes-winning dam Who's in Town, second dam seven-winner producer Who's Cozy and third dam nine-winner producer Who Did It and Run.

Nine other regional-breds brought at least $100,000 at Keeneland's sale, including a $175,000 Vekoma weanling colt out of the Weigelia mare Fat Kat, a stakes winner of $423,318, sold by Bluegrass Thoroughbred Services Inc. as agent. Bred in Pennsylvania by John D. Stuart, he was purchased by Winter Stables.

At Keeneland's November horses of racing age sale, multiple stakes winner Determined Kingdom sold to Larry Johnson for $190,000. Post Time flies Maryland flag with second at Breeders' Cup

ECLIPSE SPORTSWIRE

Sheldon Russell aboard Post Time fist bumps Joel Rosario aboard winner Full Serrano after the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile.

If Post Time keeps this up, he could run for governor.

At the Breeders' Cup World Championships at Del Mar Thoroughbred Club in Del Mar, Calif., Nov. 2, the Maryland-bred placed in his third Grade 1 stakes of the season when he finished second to Full Serrano (Arg) in the Big Ass Fans Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile.

Racing for Hillwood Stable and trainer Brittany Russell, Post Time dropped back to last of 13 after a quarter-mile but rallied past everyone but the winner to settle for second by 1½ lengths in the $1 million race. The $170,000 runner-up check pushed Post Time's career earnings to $1,167,910 – the 32nd Maryland-bred millionaire in history.

Team Post Time – completed by jockey Sheldon Russell (the trainer's husband) and assistant/exercise rider Emma Wolfe – would have loved a win, but left California with plenty to smile about.

"We're so proud of him, delighted," said Brittany Russell. "We had a great trip, and he showed up. A lot of the fun part was how he traveled and handled it all. You don't know how a horse is going to react to that until they do it. He was there for us with his best race again."

Bred by Tom and Chris Bowman, their son Brooke and Milton Higgins III, Post Time added that performance to a second in the Hill 'n' Dale Metropolitan Handicap-G1 at Saratoga in June and a third in the Whitney Stakes-G1 at Saratoga in August. Around those big swings, he won the Jennings, General George-G3, Carter-G2 and Polynesian stakes and was second in the Westchester-G3. And he's not finished, as Russell was targeting the $500,000 Cigar Mile-G2 at Aqueduct Dec. 7.

"It's five weeks from the Breeders' Cup and shipping to New York is easy for us," she said. "It's a Grade 2, but it seems like the next logical step. The idea is to keep him healthy and in form for 2025."

Post Time sold for $85,000 at Fasig-Tipton Midlantic as a yearling in 2021, destined to be a pinhooking venture for the South Carolina-based Cary Frommer. Charles, a frequent Frommer client, changed that plan when she bought into the gray colt, whose granddam Merriweather made the owner think of her grandmother Marjorie Merriweather Post.

Post Time won all three starts as a 2-year-old and was voted champion Maryland-bred juvenile male. He missed most of his 3-year-old season with a minor injury but won two of three starts late in 2023. This year, he won the Jennings in January, the General George in February and Aqueduct's Carter in April. Second to Messier in the Westchester, the son of Frosted chased National Treasure home in the Met Mile and wound up third behind Arthur's Ride and Crupi in the 1⅛-mile Whitney, the longest race of his career.

Those performances made the Breeders' Cup Dirt Mile at least a possibility, though Russell and Charles talked through the options multiple times beforehand.

"We had the Breeders' Cup on our radar at some stage in the summer when he showed up in those big ones at Saratoga," the trainer said, "but at the same time Ellen and I would have conversations about it being a long way to go and all the other reasons not to do it. We finally made the decision to go and you hope and pray he does the same thing and shows up."

Churchill Downs' Ack Ack-G3 offered an automatic qualifying spot Sept. 28, but Post Time stayed local and went to the Polynesian. Against just four foes, he won by 11½ lengths and paid $2.10 to stay undefeated in eight starts in Maryland. It turned out to be the perfect prep.

"Emma knows him better than anybody," said Brittany Russell. "She is so in tune to everything about him. After that she was like, 'We made the right move.' He just came out of it confident and happy and sharp."

For Russell, who saddled her first runner in 2018, the first Breeders' Cup starter of her career provided a personal milestone –and the completion of a goal.

"My family are not horse people and all people like that think about is the Kentucky Derby," she said. "I hope that day comes, I really hope I have a horse that runs in the Kentucky Derby someday . . . but I always said that I hoped I could get something good enough to go to the Breeders' Cup. It's the end of the year, where all the good horses go. It matters.

"To have a horse that's good enough, we went into it with a shot, it wasn't like, 'Oh, let's run.' He took himself there. That was a huge thing for me in a short time. I want to figure out how to get back."

ECLIPSE SPORTSWIRE

Emma Wolfe and Post Time soak in some California air during morning training at Del Mar the week of the Breeders' Cup.

NOTES: Post Time wasn't the only Breeders' Cup starter with regional ties. Arzak, based at Fair Hill Training Center with trainer Mike Trombetta, finished sixth in the Turf Sprint-G1, 1½ lengths behind upset winner Starlust (GB). Isivunguvungu (SAf), also based at Fair Hill with trainer Graham Motion, finished one spot behind Arzak after getting bumped by the winner in mid-stretch. Motion's Beach Bomb (SAf) finished eighth in the Filly and Mare Turf-G1.

Stallion News

The last few months of 2024 ushered in several changes among the Mid-Atlantic stallion ranks. Look for more in the January edition, but developments include:

New to the Region

Alejandro: Lola Cash and Built Wright Stables' Alejandro, the first foal out of Hall of Famer Rachel Alexandra's only daughter, Rachel's Valentina, will stand the 2025 season at Mountain Springs Farm in Palmyra, Pa., for $1,500. A lifetime breeding award is included if paying $3,000 to send two mares to the 6-year-old son of Curlin. Alejandro retires after earning $453,836 in 35 starts. He is the richest of four runners for Rachel's Valentina, a daughter of Bernardini who won the Spinaway-G1 at 2 and was second in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies-G1 and Ashland Stakes-G1 in six starts. The Mountain Springs roster also includes Beverly Park, Eastwood, Enticed, Tight Ten, Uncle Benny, Uptowncharlybrown and Well Spelled.

Chance It: Multiple stakes winner and Grade 1-placed sprinter Chance It has moved from Florida to stand the 2025 season at Sarah and Tommy Doyle's Willow Hill Equestrian in Orange, Va. Owned by Shooting Star Thoroughbreds, the 10-year-old will stand for $2,000 live foal. First or second in five starts at 2, the son of juvenile Grade 1 winner Currency Swap won Gulfstream Park's Mucho Macho Man at 3, and placed in the Forego-G1 and Smile Sprint-G3 at 4. He won four of 11 starts and $583,330. Out of the winning Pleasantly Perfect mare Vagabon Diva, Chance It descends from the family of classic sire Northern Afleet. His first foals will be 2-year-olds in 2025.

Magic Spoon: Juvenile stakes winner Magic Spoon, a 3-year-old son of champion and classic sire Good Magic, will stand his first season in Pennsylvania at Cabin Creek Gettysburg. The property of a partnership, the chestnut is offered for private contract. Undefeated two starts, Magic Spoon captured Santa Anita's Golden State Juvenile Stakes going 7 furlongs. He broke his maiden one month earlier at 6 furlongs. He is out of stakes-placed Canadian Mistress, a daughter of the Gone West stallion Canadian Frontier. The farm's roster also includes stakes sire Il Villano; first-year sire Imposing, an unraced son of Gun Runner and champion Untapable; Red Vine, a son of Candy Ride (Arg) who placed in three Grade 1 stakes; and Somelikeithotbrown, a $1.7 million earner by Big Brown.

Mendelssohns Red: Single B Farm in Siler City, N.C., will stand Mendelssohns Red, a 3-year-old unraced son of Mendelssohn and the Songandaprayer mare Celtic Chant.

Tyson: Tapit's 5-year-old son Tyson, Canada's champion older horse of 2023, was purchased by Darryl and Jill Myers to stand his first season at their Stone Jug Ranch, a new Thoroughbred operation in Dillsburg,

MICHAEL BURNS

Pa. His stud fee is $3,500, or $2,500 for multiple bookings, with special consideration for Pennsylvania-foaling and stakes-producing mares. Tyson won four of 10 starts and earned $378,548. He scored in Woodbine's Seagram Cup-G2 and Dominion Day-G3 in 2023, finished third in the Jockey Club Gold Cup-G1 and Eclipse-G2, and returned this year in the latter to finish second. His dam, the winning Smart Strike mare Honouring, is a sister to five stakes performers, as well as to the dam of champion and classic winner Arcangelo. Third dam, Broodmare of the Year Better Than Honour, produced Belmont Stakes-G1 winners Rags to Riches and Jazil, plus Irish champion Man of Iron.

Registered with The Jockey Club as Rossie'slastdance, the daughter of War Dancer never raced but outdistanced 38 competitors of all breeds at Fair Hill. She also earned the Thoroughbred Incentive Program award as the event's top Thoroughbred from The Jockey Club; the Born in America Award as the top American-bred horse and the American Thoroughbred Award at the top U.S.-bred Thoroughbred. Scheduled

For 2025, 120 days of live Thoroughbred racing at Laurel Park and Pimlico Race Course based on a calendar approved by the Maryland Thoroughbred Racetrack Operating Authority in November. It will be the first year under a new leadership and organizational structure aiming to preserve and enhance the industry in the state. The 2025 calendar includes 114 racing days at Laurel and six days at Pimlico, including the 150th Preakness Stakes-G1 in its final running at Pimlico prior to a rebuild of the property to improve racing and boost community economic benefits. Seven racing days at the Maryland State Fairgrounds in Timonium are also scheduled. Developed in coordination with the Maryland Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association and the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, the calendar was streamlined to enhance the racing product. Racing will be suspended at Laurel in July and August, when Colonial Downs in Virginia races. Racing in Maryland will start Jan. 17 and will skip a weekend in March for the Virginia Derby program at Colonial Downs March 14-16.

Presented by the Board of Directors of Maryland Million Ltd., the award is given in memory of Joe Kelly, a racing journalist and the first and only publicist for the Maryland Million from 1985 until his death in 2012. The award salutes individuals in the horse community whose contributions often go unrecognized. Schmidt has "always had a soft spot for the vulnerable, marginalized and disabled." The life-long horsewoman was often told, "Don't make your passion your profession." Ignoring that advice, in 2003 she founded what would become Chesapeake Therapeutic Riding. Retiring

As chair of The Jockey Club, Marylander Stuart S. Janney III, who announced in November his intention to step down effective August 2025. He recommended, and the board of stewards of The Jockey Club agreed, that Everett Dobson, a member of the board of stewards, be chosen as his successor. Janney will remain on the board through his term, which ends in August 2026. Janney was elected vice chair of The Jockey Club in 2010 and became chair in 2015. During his tenure, The Jockey Club expanded its commercial businesses and used those proceeds to make investments in support of the sport. Dobson is a longtime owner and breeder. He owns Candy Meadows Farm in Lexington, Ky., and races under Cheyenne Stables. He is on his second term as a steward of The Jockey Club. He serves on the executive committee of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association and is immediate past chairman of the American Graded Stakes Committee. Dobson serves as a member of the Breeders' Cup in addition to being a trustee of the Keeneland Association. Won Wild Bird

BARRIE B. REIGHTLER

Won Wild Bird shares a moment with Regina Welsh and daughter Imogen.

Regina Welsh calls it "kind of a crazy, long story."

Crazy might be a tad strong, Won Wild Bird's path does have a number of bumps in the road. Welsh has been along for most, but before you start driving you need to hear about her half-brother Rowdy Irishman.

Purchased by steeplechase trainer Bruce Haynes for $1,500 after 17 defeats (in as many starts) on the flat, the son of Erins Isle (Ire) won nine races over hurdles and regularly took on the likes of future Hall of Famer Lonesome Glory and other higher-profile stars. Rowdy Irishman won three of North America's most important steeplechase races – the Iroquois Steeplechase (1998 and 1999), Temple Gwathmey (1996 and 2001) and American Grand National (1995 and 1997). He also finished second twice to Lonesome Glory in another classic, the Colonial Cup, in 1995 and 1997. He raced in 26 Grade 1 steeplechases and earned more than $650,000.

He was so good and so loved that Haynes and his wife Anne bought his dam, the Topsider mare Rowdy Bird.

Now 22, Won Wild Bird was bred in Florida by Anne Haynes. The daughter of Wild Wonder never raced on the flat. Bruce Haynes sent her out for her debut in the Gladstone Hurdle Stakes for 3-year-olds at Far Hills in October 2005. She was pulled up. In 2006, she traveled to starts at Atlanta, Tryon, Nashville, Lexington, Middleburg, Great Meadow, Aiken and Camden and made eight starts with Haynes' sons Russell and Will doing the riding. The formula remained the same in 2007, with 10 races from Florida to Maryland and a conversion from hurdles to timber but still zero wins.

Before he could bring her – and a stable full of others – back for the 2008 season, Bruce Haynes suffered a heart attack while in the field at the family's Bristol, Tenn., farm and passed away at 46. His loss shocked all corners of the sport – Anne, Russell, Will and their brother Aaron for sure but also fellow trainers, owners and the long list of race meets Team Haynes frequented.

"Bruce would load up his stock trailer with his horses in Tennessee, and those suckers would run their hearts out and get back on the trailer that same day and go home," Welsh said. "His horses were all historically very hard-knocking. Having worked for Bruce Miller over the years – he had a few of Bruce Haynes' horses that he bought along the way – I know they were all super. Bruce Haynes was a good horseman with a good eye."

Mike Berryman helped Anne Haynes and her sons with the horses that first year. Won Wild Bird ran three times, the last a halfway promising third at Callaway Gardens in November. She ran three times in 2009, once for Welsh and twice with Anne Haynes as the trainer, and moved to Welsh for good in 2010.

By spring 2011, the gray mare was a well-seasoned 9-year-old maiden but she broke through in the allowance timber at the Grand National meet in Maryland, winning by 7½ lengths for Welsh and Pink Ribbon Racing. She tried the Maryland Hunt Cup a week later, but parted company with Kristin Fischer at the eighth fence. Two starts later, Won Wild Bird and Richard Boucher won the Radnor Hunt Cup timber stakes. The success came with a cause.

"I put together a group of women – Pink Ribbon Racing – and our goal was to support breast cancer," Welsh said. "We were donating any money that she made that year to breast cancer causes."

Back for more and racing for new owner Walter Pinkard Jr. in 2012, Won Wild Bird lost her first four starts but went out with another stakes win in the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup in November. The 4-mile win in the mud left her with a bowed tendon, however, and a new direction.

Won Wild Bird retired to Hope Birsh's Jack's Hill Farm, where Welsh has kept her horses for more than 25 years.

"She was a lovely horse to ride – very uncomplicated," Welsh said. "Straight rubber bit, easy to gallop, great eye, amazing jumper. Really kind."

While she didn't buck, kick or bite, Won Wild Bird had one quirk, which occasionally surfaced during her racing career. She would randomly freeze and refuse to start. It happened once on Welsh's watch.

When that happened, "a Mack truck could not move her – forget it."

Welsh eventually figured out a way to fake out the mare.

"What you had to do was pretend you were getting off," she said. "Kick your feet out of the irons, swing a leg over so just your belly was touching the saddle, and then she'd start to walk. Then you'd jump back in the tack and go. You just had to keep her moving."

Welsh also mentioned the mare's extreme love of water. It proved useful during her racing career; she swam a lot while in training. And today, "no water trough is safe when she's around. She tries to get in them and splash you, even in her old age."

In 2014, Won Wild Bird broke her accessory carpal bone while in the field overnight, necessitating a lengthy period of stall rest. She was a model patient and even served as an impromptu bridesmaid at Welsh's wedding that summer.

"Our wedding was at the farm, and Bird was the only horse in a stall," Welsh said. "So the barn was kind of the buffet line, and there she was."

After the convalescence, Welsh noticed another peculiarity. Standing in the field, the mare would close her eyes, her knees would buckle and she would begin to sink to the ground before catching herself and jolting awake. Veterinarians diagnosed her with narcolepsy.

> "Our wedding was at the farm, and Bird was the only horse in a stall so the barn was kind of the buffet line, and there she was."
> – Regina Welsh, on Won Wild Bird's place in her people's lives

In 2017, Won Wild Bird had her first foal – a colt by National Anthem (GB) named Natty Bird. Bred back to Nina and Tim Gardner's stallion in 2019, she produced a filly, Chirpy Chirp, in 2020.

"I had always ogled Nina Gardner's racehorses, because they breed such lovely ones. They had National Anthem, a graded stakes runner on the turf," Welsh said. "Everything that she had by him was a winner, either on the flat or over fences. Or they became really nice upper-level event horses."

Since the Gardners didn't advertise the horse, Welsh approached them about breeding to him.

"I have two foals by National Anthem," Welsh said. "Have they done anything? No."

She hopes to start both over jumps. Natty Bird showed little in three starts on the flat, and Chirpy Chirp remains unraced. Both reside at Jack's Hill Farm with their dam.

While she deserved a hassle-free retirement, Won Wild Bird's troubles weren't quite over. In early 2022, she became neurological and underwent a protocol for EPM. Somewhere along the line, she broke a hip, most likely during a narcoleptic episode.

"We started doing everything we could, and as soon as we started her EPM treatment, she improved," Welsh said. "It was like night and day. She is just so gritty and tough – you can't deny a horse like that the chance. She has such will."

Welsh's 7-year-old daughter, Imogen Weaver, has never known a day without Won Wild Bird – whose roles now include helping raise Shetland Pony weanlings – and regularly leads the mare around the farm. There are "a ridiculous amount of ponies" on the farm, but Won Wild Bird is Imogen's favorite.

"She gives me cuddles," she said. "And I've had her a really long time." ■

BY JOE CLANCY

Author Fox's tale is about more than a book

Ask a silly question. Marylander Carol Fox, pen name Allison Wilcox, wrote and self-published a book about Swaps, Art Sherman and California Chrome called Three Gallant Hearts. I asked her how it all came to be.

Forty-one minutes later, I had the CliffsNotes version anyway.

Fox read The Black Stallion as a child and became forever enamored with Thoroughbred racing. Some years later, she read an article in Sports Illustrated about Swaps and became forever enraptured by everything about the 1955 Kentucky Derby winner. Retired from a career as a school psychologist in South Carolina and Maryland, she watched California Chrome – like Swaps a California-bred – win the 2014 Kentucky Derby for trainer Art Sherman, Swaps' former exercise rider. And became so interested she sent Sherman a letter, hoping to talk to him about Swaps.

She never heard from him, but stay with us. Via Facebook, Fox connected with Karen Oman, who knew Sherman via a group of California Chrome fans who met at Los Alamitos Race Course for breakfast.

"I just love Swaps," Fox told Oman.

"Art talks about Swaps all the time," Oman replied.

"Do you think Art would talk to me?" asked Fox.

Oman checked with Sherman, who as Fox put it, agreed "reluctantly."

She swore to never divulge his phone number to anyone – still hasn't – and called him.

"What do you want to know?" he asked.

Based on the conversation, she wrote an article for Writer's Digest called "Two Derbies and a Prayer." It won a third prize ($250) in the magazine's 2018 writing contest. Encouraged, she beefed up that work to 11,000 words, called it "The Prayer that Won a Kentucky Derby" and sent it to a contest run by Amazon. No prize this time, but Fox self-published that 79-page book. Oman gave a copy to Sherman, who enjoyed it and eventually talked to Fox so many times that, "He said I made his ear hurt."

And that's how Three Gallant Hearts came to be.

Fox "tried all kinds" of publishing avenues with more experience and backing, but came up empty and chased down the idea herself. Published this year, the book spans 321 pages, includes an extensive notes and bibliography section and even a few photos. The first half is all about Swaps. The second half is all about California Chrome. The result is part history lesson, part biography, all love for two Thoroughbreds who raced nearly six decades apart but somehow owed at least some part of their success to the same person – Sherman.

The book looks self-published, which isn't a knock. It's just not fancy. But it's a fun read. There's a chapter about Sherman riding at Bowie in the 1950s – he won the 1959 Barbara Fritchie Handicap aboard Tinkalero. In the winner's circle, Sherman met Vice President Richard Nixon and discovered they'd gone to the same high school. Fox interviewed Sherman of course, but also found Janice Tenney Sipherd and Renny Tenney, daughter and daughter-in-law of Swaps' trainer Mesh Tenney. Fox talked to Kim Ellsworth, son of Swaps' owner Rex Ellsworth. Turf writer Steve Haskin read the manuscript and provided feedback.

A fan first and an author second, Fox talks like all this surprises her too. At 80, she's a published author and – as of 2019 anyway – a Thoroughbred breeder. That tale might be as unlikely as the book's. Long a fan of Thoroughbreds, but never a participant, she stopped in The Mill store in Hampstead, Md., one day in 2014 to look at hanging baskets and met owner/breeder Mary Gale thanks to a stray (well, no longer stray) cat name Chloe.

"Mary Gale had five Thoroughbred mares and when I saw her mares they just gave me goosebumps," said Fox, who adopted the cat. "I said I wanted to breed one of her mares to a stallion with Swaps in his pedigree and be a partner on the horse."

At the time, the only Maryland stallion with Swaps in his pedigree was Imagining. Fox paid the stud fee and Moon Cat Edie (another with Swaps blood way back) went to Imagining. The resulting foal, Ben's Moon Cat, was supposed to sell as a yearling but Fox bought out her partners and planned on racing her. In training with Alberto Delgado (California Chrome's first jockey) and his wife Alison, the filly was injured while training and never raced.

As you could probably tell by now, Fox does not give up easily. Ben's Moon Cat became a broodmare and was bred to Uncle Lino – winner of the 2016 California Chrome Stakes at Los Alamitos and, yes, a descendent of Swaps. The filly will be a yearling next month.

"Here I am doing something I wanted to do my whole life," Fox said. "Can you believe it?" ■

Classic Shine

BRILLIANT ICE SHINES IN FEATURE AS HOMEBREDS DOMINATE MARYLAND'S DAY AT RACES

By Joe Clancy

Everybody starts somewhere. For Phil Bartz, his introduction to Thoroughbred racing came with a trip to the Adirondacks – and Saratoga Race Course – from his family's home in Buffalo, N.Y.

The visits to North America's oldest racetrack produced plenty of memorable moments, and some awkward conversations.

"By the time I went to kindergarten I could read," Bartz said. His teacher asked how he was able to read so well, and Bartz shot back with a, "Well, how are you going to handicap if you don't know how to read?"

JIM MCCUE

Leeann and Phil Bartz are all smiles after the Maryland Million Classic win with homebred Brilliant Ice.

Somebody would call social services today, but the early lessons cultivated an interest and – when betting on horses proved to be a losing proposition – Bartz and his wife Leeann dipped their toes into racehorse ownership and are still making memories off the first horse they owned. A great-grandson of the initial Crystal Park Stables runner Quick Shift, Brilliant Ice dominated the $153,000 Maryland Million Classic at Laurel Park Oct. 12.

Headliner on a 12-race card on the 39th running of the state-sired day, the Classic showcased the roots of Maryland's racing industry as all eight stakes winners raced for their breeders. Offspring of eight Maryland stallions posted wins on the day, topped by doubles from Uncle Lino and Great Notion and a record-extending 38th victory for Not For Love, who died in 2016.

Nobody worked harder than Brilliant Ice, who charged through the stretch to take the lead from favorite Mosler Time and drew off to score by 5¼ lengths for Crystal Park – the Bartzes plus partners Eileen and Steve Rosenthal – trainer Annette Eubanks and jockey Jeiron Barbosa. Sent off as the 5-1 third choice in a field of 11, the 5-year-old gelding collected his fifth lifetime win (first in a stakes) and earned $82,500 to push his career mark to $314,990 in 26 starts. The winner stopped the clock in 1:50.19 for 1⅛ miles.

Brilliant Ice needed seven starts to graduate the maiden ranks Dec. 30, 2022. The dark bay won once last year, while placing second three times and third twice. His 2024 has been busy, but productive, with wins in February and July and back-to-back seconds coming into the Classic.

The road was even longer for the Bartzes. They claimed Quick Shift from breeder Oliver Goldsmith for $8,500 in December 1991. Trained by Gary Capuano, she won in January 1992 and got claimed away in March.

It was not a happy time in the Bartz household.

"My daughter and wife were so upset that I called the racing office and asked them who claimed her," Phil Bartz said. Informed that Eubanks was the new trainer, he asked for her telephone number and made a second call.

Brilliant Ice became Great Notion's first Maryland Million Classic winner.

JERRY DZIERWINSKI

"Are we dreaming?
Did this happen?
Did that really just happen?
It's been such a wonderful ride.
It really has."

– Owner/breeder Leeann Bartz,
after Brilliant Ice won the Classic

"Can we come visit her? Can we just come visit her?" Bartz asked. "I won't claim her back or anything. I've got my daughter and my wife, they're crying all the time."

Eubanks agreed, the Bartz family visited the barn often, but Quick Shift got claimed again and passed through several trainers before being claimed back for $8,500 two days before Christmas 1993. The new owner? Crystal Park Stables.

"It was the best Christmas present ever," Phil Bartz said. "Annette had them put a wreath around her neck and a big bow. When I took Leeann out there to see her, she was in a state of shock because we hadn't had her for almost two years."

The daughter of Double Zeus and the Tequillo mare Aunt Jean ran eight more times without winning and was retired. She made 81 starts, won 16 races, placed in 38 others – one season she raced 28 times, finishing top-three in 22 – and earned $150,834. As a broodmare, she produced four winners from five foals to race. Daughter Crystal Ice (by Horatius) produced one foal, Little Ice Patch (by Housebuster), who won four times and in turn produced multiple winners Ice On the Severn and Carolina Ice. Her third foal to race, Brilliant Ice, has outdone them all. The son of Great Notion delivered first Maryland Million wins to Crystal Park and Eubanks.

"Are we dreaming? Did this happen? Did that really just happen?" Leeann Bartz asked herself and anyone else in the winner's circle afterward. "It's been such a wonderful ride. It really has."

Quick Shift lived to age 33 and spent her last several years as a companion to retired graded stakes winner Learned Jake on Eubanks' farm in Lothian – a reward for a racing/broodmare career and plenty more.

"We had a bond, she and I," said Leeann Bartz. "It's almost like we knew what each other were thinking. I know that sounds silly. If you don't love horses, you don't understand it. But if you do, you do."

Eubanks, 80, missed the race while recovering from knee-replacement surgery but wasn't far from anyone's thoughts.

"We will talk to her shortly," said Phil Bartz. "I was hoping she could make it out today, but she couldn't. We love her to bits. She's the best. If anybody deserves this, it's her. Not us."

Family Business

Fred and Mary Agnes Lewis enjoyed Maryland Million Day. They would have loved this version as two of their homebreds posted victories – 3-year-old Celtic Contender in the $101,000 Sprint and 6-year-old Hunter Joe in the $50,000 turf starter handicap. The half-brothers are the last two horses campaigned by Lewis Family Racing Stable after Mary Agnes (2020) and Fred (2022) passed away at 92 and 95, respectively.

Their children Ted, Jeff and Mike Lewis and Joan Lewis Kennedy plus Joan's son Nick carry on the family tradition now and reveled in the double.

"It's amazing," said Jeff Lewis. "My dad and my mom would be incredibly happy right now. They loved days like this, a big day for Maryland racing. To be at the track like this and win two races is just unbelievable."

Fred Lewis was a veterinarian, first in Williamsport, Pa., and later in Howard County, Md., caring for small animals and horses for decades until a few months before he died. As an owner and breeder, he won a Maryland Million starter handicap with Who Stole My Sock in 2016 and campaigned stakes winners Katie's Love and her daughter Celtic Katie. They're the first two dams of the 2024 Maryland Million winners. A $60,000 yearling purchase in 2003, Katie's Love won five races and earned $248,500. Celtic Katie won four races and produced Hunter Joe in 2018. The Palace Malice gelding came into Maryland Million Day with six wins and made it seven by stalking the pace, building a 3-length lead in the stretch and hanging on by 1¾ lengths over The Last Scip for trainer Hammy Smith and Jaime Rodriguez.

Three races later, 3-year-old Celtic Contender took his turn with a half-length score over even-money favorite Band Camp in the Sprint. Arden'sluckytobe and longshot Freeze the Fire set early fractions of :22.19 and :44.77. Just behind them, Celtic Contender and Victor Carrasco went after

The Lewis family's Celtic Contender, a son of Irish War Cry, and Victor Carrasco head to the winner's circle after the Sprint.

Freeze the Fire in the stretch, took command and fought off the Eubanks-trained Band Camp to prevail in 1:09.87 for 6 furlongs. The win gave Smith 10 Maryland Million training wins, tied for third all-time.

Unraced at 2, Celtic Contender broke his maiden by 10½ lengths in February, finished a well-beaten seventh in the Federico Tesio Stakes and won a first-level allowance at Laurel in June. The son of Irish War Cry crossed the wire first in the Star de Naskra Stakes June 29, but was placed third for interfering with a rival. Beaten a half-length in the Concern Stakes July 28, the chestnut prepped for the Maryland Million with a 7-furlong allowance win Sept. 21. The Sprint victory gave him four wins and a bankroll to $169,805 – all while carrying on a legacy as part of the final crop bred by Fred Lewis.

While welcomed, the success won't necessarily fuel an expansion of Lewis Family Racing. Those days are nearly over.

"We're down to just these two horses now," said Ted Lewis. "We sold the mares and just kept these two going. I'm sure Hammy is going to try to talk us into buying a couple more now after a day like this. It's incredible to see them both win."

Turf Striker

Off an allowance win at Monmouth Park, Starstruck Notion looked like a player in the 2023 Turf and did everything but win while chasing repeat winner Wicked Prankster home late and settling for second.

A year later, the 4-year-old son of Great Notion again entered the $125,000 race off a victory at Monmouth and met seven rivals. Wicked Prankster didn't try for a third Turf score, but the group included hard hitters Sky's Not Falling, Crabs N Beer, Sports Editor, Street Copper and Riccio. Favorite Sky's Not Falling took over from Sports Editor and Goodbye Note in the stretch, built a quick lead and looked home free as Starstruck Notion unwound a late rally.

Too late, it appeared. The New Jersey-bred carved into the deficit, but the finish line looked just as menacing as the rivals crossed together after 1:47.84 for 1⅛ miles. It took awhile, but the photo finish went Starstruck Notion's way by a nose. Even winning jockey Forest Boyce wasn't sure.

"I had it pretty measured . . . but I had a moment there where I was like, 'Is he going to get there . . .' " she said. "I thought I had it, then halfway through the stretch I was like, 'We might not have this.' Then he kicked in and we got there. I think he was taking a deep breath at that moment."

Trained by Pat McBurney for owner/breeder Ken Garcia, Starstruck Notion won for the sixth time in 15 starts, becoming a stakes winner and pushing his career bankroll to $331,557. It was the dark bay gelding's first win away from Monmouth Park. Garcia bred Starstruck Notion's dam Star On Broadway, who won once for McBurney in 2008. Her only other foal to race, Star Flare, won twice.

Garcia raised Starstruck Notion on his farm in New Jersey, and compared him to a child.

"He thought we were his parents, because the barn was right there and he kept trying to get to the house," Garcia said. "He wanted to be with us. I love the horses, love doing this."

McBurney paid credit to Starstruck Notion's guts in the stretch.

"He was just always a good-trying colt," said the trainer, a former assistant to New Jersey legend John Forbes whose early days in racing were in the John Tammaro Jr. barn at Bowie. "He was getting a bit heavy on his front end is why we gelded him, but it wasn't because of his attitude or anything. He was always a good guy. I think that cross with Great Notion works. What a sire, right? He gets a hickory-hickory hard trying horse."

Girl Power

Bosserati is an open book when it comes to racing strategy, or the lack of it. The 4-year-old filly runs in turf sprints, goes as fast as she can for as long as she can, and tries to see out the trip.

The plan doesn't always work, as evidenced by six consecutive defeats before taking on nine male rivals in the $102,000 Turf Sprint. Three times she finished third, twice by a neck, but that's as close as she got to victory since a score in Laurel's Stormy Blues Stakes in June 2023.

After a third at Colonial Downs Aug. 31, trainer Brittany Russell looked for a three-other-than allowance spot for Joel Politi's homebred daughter of Holy Boss but the condition book didn't cooperate.

JIM MCCUE

The Holy Boss filly Bosserati (11) clings to the lead late to edge Great Idea by a neck in the Turf Sprint.

"She's had a couple of beats this year, and we've had to throw her in some spots," trainer Brittany Russell said. "It just always feels like you're not going into the spot you wanted. But look, she's a stakes winner, and she's a turf sprinter, so you've just got to go with those opportunities sometimes."

She made the most of it, streaking to the front from post nine, building a lead through fractions of :21.82 and :44.63, passing 5 furlongs in :56.10 and screaming for the finish line over the final sixteenth. Great Idea made a run, but came up a neck short after 1:02.04. Had to Have Him took third while favorite Witty wound up eighth after getting pinched at the start and forced wide at the top of the stretch.

Like a bettor, Russell leaned through the final yards alongside another trainer.

"I was in the paddock going crazy," she said. "I was with Anthony Farrior, and I'm like, 'I don't know if you're good luck or bad luck.' It turns out, yeah, I might watch a few more races with him. Hang on . . . hang on . . . right."

Bosserati hung on, winning for the fifth time in 17 starts and pushing her career earnings to $270,260. Jockey Sheldon Russell, the trainer's husband, credited the filly's early speed and more.

"I've said to a few people, she's the fastest horse I've been on out of the gate," he said. "The first jump, she's lightning fast. There was other speed in there. I was surprised she was out there by herself. She goes fast, but she's doing it the right way, you know what I mean? She's not being rank. It was :21, :44 but it's not :21, :44, head and head with something else."

The battle came at the end.

"I won't say what I was telling her, but I was screaming for the wire, because I honestly felt like she deserved to win today," the jockey said. "She's gone against the boys, she's done all the dirty work, she deserved that. I was really happy, man. That was cool for Brittany, the team and Joel."

Politi claimed Bosserati's dam, Candy Striper, for $50,000 in November 2017. She made one start for him, finishing third for $25,000 in January 2018, and became a broodmare. Politi owns 40 percent of Anchor and Hope Farm stallion Holy Boss so, naturally, Candy Striper has produced five foals by the stallion – three winners.

"When we come down here, I don't want to be embarrassed, man. I worked down here for 20 years. I can't come down and be embarrassed. I've got to think in my mind, 'Do I at least have a shot?' "

– Trainer Bernie Houghton, who won the Distaff with Foxy Junior

Home Run

When just seven Maryland-sired horses turned up for the $125,000 Ladies, the 1⅛-mile turf race looked like a choice spot for Active. The 3-year-old Gun Runner filly, bred in Maryland by Larry Johnson, cost $200,000 as a yearling, finished first or second in her previous four starts and cast a big shadow. By race day, she had company as Dark Hollow Farm's 5-year-old Maryland-bred Bodemeister mare Circle Home drew into the race after a late scratch.

Circle Home rallied from 15½ lengths behind early to score by a neck over 2023 race winner Precious Avary after 1:48.10. The runner-up did her part, building a big lead, carrying it into the stretch and digging in late to no avail. The New Jersey-bred daughter of Divining Rod was 4½ lengths clear of Next Episode in third as Active settled for fifth.

Circle Home may not be Maryland-sired, but her roots run deep. Dark Hollow's David and JoAnn Hayden claimed the bay mare's third dam Safely Home at Bowie in 1980 and she rewarded them by producing eight winners. Hall of Famer and champion Safely Kept led the way, but the squad included Grade 2 winner and $554,731-earner Partner's Hero, 31-race winner Safe On Second and 10-race winner Stand Up Double.

"We're going back 30 years with that family; look up Safely Home, it's got to be 30 years [it's actually more than 40]," said David Hayden. "We were just getting in the game and Ron Alfano said he had this filly we should think about claiming."

Once Alfano explained how claiming worked, the Haydens put up $11,500 and owned a racehorse. Safely Home started once, was injured and became a broodmare after the Haydens asked, "What's a broodmare?"

Born two years before her famous sister Safely Kept, Safe At the Plate won six times for Dark Hollow, was seven-times stakes-placed, and joined the broodmare band. Her 2005 foal, Safe Journey, won three races and also went to the breeding shed. The daughter of Flatter's foals include stakes winners O Dionysus and Joy.

Their sister Circle Home arrived in 2019. She needed eight starts to break through the maiden ranks, but has put together a solid 2024 with two wins, two seconds and a third in eight starts for trainer Miguel Vera.

Cheering for her requires patience.

"She definitely has her style of running, which might give you a heart attack," said Dark Hollow farm manager John Foster after living through the Ladies. "You figure that's her, and here she comes. If she gets a, I don't want to say good ride, but if she gets a good ride or the right set-up she's pretty tough."

That last adjective has been a part of her life since the early days.

"She was the dominant girl in the field," Foster said. "When they were still with the colts, she was dominant. Then when we split them up, she was the dominant filly and was always tough. Not bad, just you've got to do it her way or not do it. It's been great watching her."

Heavy Hitter

Bernie Houghton laughed when informed that Foxy Junior's win in the $101,000 Distaff was going to force the statisticians to look up his lifetime winning percentage in Maryland Million races.

"When we come down here, I don't want to be embarrassed, man," the Penn National-based trainer said. "I worked down here for 20 years. I can't come down and be embarrassed. I've got to think in my mind, 'Do I at least have a shot?' "

The Maryland Jockey Club horse identifier for the better part of those two decades, Houghton wins at 17-percent clip lifetime. On Maryland Million Day, he bats .500 with six wins from a dozen starts. Since 2012, he's an even gaudier 6-for-10.

Motivated by potential embarrassment or not, Houghton doesn't send them to Laurel in October unless they're ready. Foxy Junior joined Classy Coco (2012 and 2014), Crabcakes (2017, 2018) and Ournationonparade (2019) on Houghton's list of winners. Owned and bred by Dianne Stern, the daughter of 2008 Maryland Million Classic winner Cuba gave Houghton his fourth Distaff win.

Late breeder/owners Fred and Mary Agnes Lewis were well represented by their family in the winner's circle after Hunter Joe won the Turf Starter Handicap. Members of Lewis Family Racing returned to celebrate three races later when 3-year-old Celtic Contender, a half-brother to Hunter Joe, took the Sprint.

"I just love this horse. He loves it. He loves his job. He's good. He's easy. I get on him every day. We had him a long time ago and he's the same as he was, acts like he's young. I want to retire him, but maybe a couple more starts."

Foxy Junior and regular jockey Jomar Torres waited just off the pace of Talk to the Judge through a first quarter in :23.10 and a half in :45.70 before striking in the stretch, getting past favorite Spencerian and holding off runner-up Sheilahs Warcloud by three-quarters of a length in 1:23.86 for 7 furlongs. The dark bay 4-year-old won for the fifth time in six starts this year, continuing an improvement Houghton noticed as soon as she went back to work after a winter break.

"No, I've got to be honest, I just wasn't sure," he said about expecting the step forward after her 3-year-old season. "We gave her the time off, and . . . I knew she could run in the morning, and she won some races at Penn National, but she came back a lot better than I expected."

Foxy Junior won her 2024 debut by 11½ lengths at Penn National May 2, and added two more victories there before trying stakes company in the Princess of Sylmar for Pennsylvania-breds at Presque Isle Downs July 29. Beaten 2 lengths when fourth, she went to Parx Racing Sept. 21 and pulled a mild upset in the Plum Pretty Stakes for state-breds.

Houghton gave some credit to Torres, aboard for all six starts in 2024.

"He had a GoPro on last time at Parx, and he let me listen to it," said Houghton, a steeplechase jockey in the 1980s. "He never says a word. He's so quiet. It's not like when I used to ride. He's so quiet. And I think that's what she likes. He just sits there, he puts her in a good position, and she does the rest."

For Stern and her husband Ralph, the win continued a long relationship with racing. They campaigned Foxy Junior's granddam Hanalei Bay, a $7,500 claim who placed in four stakes. Her daughter by Flatter, Foxy Drummer, won three times and produced Foxy Junior in 2020.

"This is wonderful," Dianne said of a Maryland Million win, "something I've dreamed about." The Westminster, Md., residents teamed up with Houghton and his mother Betsy several years ago and have enjoyed the relationship – including a winner's circle phone call from Betsy after the Distaff.

"This guy, as far as we're concerned, should be the only person that should be training horses – he can have all of them," said Ralph Stern of Bernie. "He takes care of horses and he treats them right and he has them ready. If it's a decent horse and he can get something out of them, this is the guy that can do it."

Four weeks after the Maryland Million win, Houghton and Foxy Junior did it again – making off with the $100,000 Thirty Eight Go Go Stakes at Laurel. That win gave her nine victories from 19 starts, and $332,669 earned.

Mr. Clubman to You

The day's senior citizen, 10-year-old Clubman, became a Maryland Million Day winner on his sixth try. Now racing for owner/trainer Joanne Shankle, the son of Not For Love rallied from last of 11 after a quarter-mile to win the finale – a 7-furlong starter handicap – by a neck over Paco the Taco Man.

The victory came after three tries in the Classic (2017, 2018, 2019) and two more in starters (2022, 2023). Third twice in those, Clubman earned his breakthrough with a gutsy stretch run for Ismerio Villalobos, much to the delight of Shankle.

"This horse is so cool," she said after giving him a hug. "He's got a good personality. I just love this horse. He loves it. He loves his job. He's good. He's easy. I get on him every day. We had him a long time ago and he's the same as he was, acts like he's young. I want to retire him, but maybe a couple more starts."

Bred by Tom and Chris Bowman and their daughters Quin Bowman and Becky Davis out of the Lemon Drop Kid mare Otherwise Perfect, Maryland's 2023 Broodmare of the Year, Clubman sold for $75,000 as a 2-year-old in 2016. Unraced as a juvenile, he won five of 16 starts in 2017 and has made at least seven starts every year since. He won six races last year, but rode a seven-start losing streak into the Maryland Million.

JEFF SNYDER

Foxy Junior, by 2008 Classic winner Cuba, cocks an ear toward the competition while winning the Distaff for jockey Jomar Torres.

The victory was his 19th (two stakes) in 84 lifetime starts and pushed his career earnings to $729,847.

Juvenile Success

Charlie Parker summed up his Thoroughbred strategy in two simple sentences.

"The ones we can sell for a modest profit, we sell. The others, we race."

And win races with.

For the second time in five runnings, Parker won the $100,000 Lassie with a homebred. Miss Nondescript did it in 2020, and Shkhara Fire handled the task this time around. Owned and bred by Parker's Barak Farm and Dean Barber's Dino's Thoroughbreds, the 2-year-old filly spotted the field several lengths at the start but erased a 10¼-length deficit in a hurry. Last of 12 after a quarter-mile in :22.01, she advanced to eighth after a half-mile, rallied seven wide off the turn and reeled in Malibu Hooch late to score by a neck after 6 furlongs in 1:11.24. Angel Cruz rode the winner, a daughter of Friesan Fire and the Langfuhr mare Rysy, for trainer Jose Corrales. Safe Trust, racing for Barak and Corrales, finished third while stablemate Rapido Rosa finished 10th.

"It's unbelievable, what can you say?" Parker said. "We had three in there and we've had six 2-year-old winners this year. This filly is really blooming, and it means more to me because it's my best friend in a partnership with me."

Parker and Barber passed credit to farm manager Joe Dodgen and the team in Kentucky, and Corrales.

"None of it's possible without our people back home, and Jose too; he's the man behind the scenes," said Parker, a barn designer/builder based in Kentucky. "They take good care of these horses. Dean and I just have the fun."

Gina and Jerry Robb's No Guts No Glory Farm homebred Do It for Michael sped to victory in the day's first stakes, the $100,000 Nursery for 2-year-olds. Trained by Jerry, the son of Uncle Lino and the Great Notion mare Gracie's Hero fought

"All his siblings were high-end allowance horses and won a couple Delaware-certified races," Jerry Robb said. "I think he's the best of all of them. He's been doing everything right."

NOTES: Next Girl won the opener, the $51,020 turf distaff starter handicap at 1 1/16 miles, for WWCD and trainer Robbie Bailes. J.G. Torrealba rode the winner, a daughter of Divining Rod and the Touch Gold mare Fleet and Fancy bred in Maryland by Country Life Farm and the Fleet and Fancy broodmare partnership. . . Shake and Bake Racing's Devil Pays in Gold won the 7-furlong distaff starter handicap with an inside rally to get past Isabella's Glory by a neck for jockey Horacio Karamanos. Two Legends Farm bred the winner in Maryland . . . Toledo's victory aboard Circle Home gave him 18 Maryland Million wins for his career, tying him with Edgar Prado for the overall lead. His 22 wins tied him with Allen's Prospect for second on the career leaderboard behind Not For Love's 38. ■

MCKEE GETS PUSH ON BIG NIGHT; RUNCO STABLE ALSO SHINES

By Paul Halloran ■ Photographs by Coady Photography

Cyndy McKee had plenty on her plate on West Virginia Breeders Classics night at Charles Town, with six horses entered on the card that serves as a showcase for horses bred in the Mountain State. Before she went to the track Oct. 12, however, she had an important stop to make.

The detour took her to Pleasant View Memory Gardens in Martinsburg, where her husband, John, is buried.

"I went by the graveyard and I said, 'Look, I got 'em to the head of the lane, bud. You gotta carry them from here.' And he did," McKee said. "He sent 'em from the head of the lane home."

It's hard to argue with the results. After a second and a third in the first two races, McKee reeled off four wins in five races.

Thanks, John.

"I felt like I was in a dream," she said. "The first two races, I was second and third and I was pleased with them. I thought, this is a pretty good night so far. Then they started winning and kept on winning."

Catch the Humor in the Russell Road. Direct the Cat in the West Virginia Lottery. No Change in the Onion Juice. Overnight Pow Wow in the Cavada. She did not have a horse in the Triple Crown Nutrition, in the middle of the sequence, eliminating the chance for five straight.

"I was like, 'Oh my God, what is going on here?' This is unbelievable. Just unbelievable. I knew they had the ability, all four of them, but how does that happen in one night, that everything just clicks and goes right? We just got very, very lucky."

That John McKee was the listed breeder for all four winners made the night even more special for Cyndy, who was with him for 47 years before he died at age 83 in February 2023. She won two races on the 2023 Breeders Classics card and doubled her pleasure this year.

It was suggested that she hasn't broken stride. Not quite.

"I think I've broken stride where people haven't seen it," she said. "You know, I got back to the barn that night and I lost it, because he wasn't there to see it. Everybody says it gets easier. Well, from day to day, I guess, you know, you stay busy, and I guess it does get a little easier. But when you have nights like that. No, it's not easier. Because you're thinking about that constantly."

Even with her husband gone for 20 months, McKee considered the banner night very much a team effort for their Beau Ridge Farm.

"John worked hard, and he did a lot with these mares, picking them out and trying to get each stallion something that they matched up with," she said. "He did a good job at it and he taught me a lot. I was born and raised on the racetrack. My dad was the track superintendent at Charles Town for years. But I came up in the show ring and pony club and 4-H. I didn't know that much about racehorses, but I learned."

She looked like an "A" student Oct. 12.

Catch the Humor got the ball rolling with a 10½-length win in the Russell Road, for 3-year-olds at 7 furlongs, in only his third start. McKee did not see that coming.

"That shocked me more than any of them," she said. "I knew the horse wanted to go farther, but he'd only run twice. I ran him one time as a 2-year-old and he bucked his shins and we brought him home and turned him out. He was kind of a big old thing anyway. I left him home for a while."

After a maiden win at 4½ furlongs, McKee threw the son of Girvin into the deep end and he performed like Michael Phelps.

"I kept saying this horse is going to get tired, he's got to get tired," she said. "And he didn't, he just kept going." Catch the Humor followed that with an allowance score Nov. 7.

The McKees bought the Distorted Humor mare Source of Humor, once a $235,000 Keeneland yearling, in foal to Girvin for $2,500. "The Distorted Humor mares and Indian Charlie mares cross good with Fiber Sonde. That's why we bought that mare in particular."

If Catch the Humor's win was an upset, Direct the Cat's was anything but, the 3-year-old filly winning on Breeders Classics night for the second straight year after taking the Triple Crown Nutrition last year. Out of the Fiber Sonde mare Cat Thats Grey, Direct the Cat won by 9¼ lengths at 1-10 under Reshawn Latchman, who piloted three of McKee's winners.

"I didn't know if we were going to make it to the races with her [this year]," McKee said. "In one of her races, another horse ran up on her heels and cut her pretty good on her left hind. That night when she walked out of the winner's circle, I almost started crying. I said, 'Oh, my God, this filly's done.' And she's been so good to me. I hated for her to be hurt like that."

After a mid-summer start with two allowance wins, Direct the Cat ran second in the Sylvia Bishop Memorial Stakes before the West Virginia Lottery, which she followed with another allowance tally Nov. 2. She's won 8-of-11 and never been worse than third.

There was No Change in the result of the Onion Juice this year, with McKee's 6-year-old home-bred gelding by Fiber

Sonde winning the race for the second year in a row. It was the 17th win in a career that has seen him earn $541,017. Mckee bought the dam, Looks Like Trouble, for $10,000 at Keeneland in 2012.

No Change, fourth in the Onion Juice in 2022 and second in the West Virginia Lottery in 2021, was ridden by Marshall Mendez.

"He's just a warrior," McKee said. "He'd had a little bit of a rough go. He just about got knocked down in one race earlier this year and then lost a shoe in another race. Nothing bad happened this time. He actually got a clean trip and got the job done."

In the $125,000 Cavada, Overnight Pow Wow showed that McKee has two outstanding 3-year-old fillies in her barn, winning by 1½ lengths as the odds-on favorite. Another Fiber Sonde progeny, she was two starts removed from a fourth in the Grade 2 Charles Town Oaks.

"I was hoping against hope to get third to get the graded-stakes place with her, but that didn't happen. She was fourth and I couldn't have been happier with her that night," McKee

Beau Ridge Farm colorbearer Direct the Cat makes it look as easy while living up to her 1-10 odds in the West Virginia Lottery.

No Change stretches to the finish to defend his title in the Onion Juice for McKee.

said. "She ran her race and she did a hell of a job. I opted to run her in the Cavada and to put [Direct the] Cat in the 3-year-old race because Cat still had that cut. I put Pow Wow in what I thought was going to be the tougher race, which it was, but she got the job done."

Out of Holy Pow Wow, for whom the McKees paid $5,000 in January 2013, Overnight Pow Wow is a half-sister of two-time West Virginia Horse of the Year Muad'dib and Late Night Pow Wow, winner of two Grade 3 stakes. Like her stablemates, Overnight Pow Wow followed the Cavada with an allowance win Nov. 1.

"People say, 'Why don't you take her away from Charles Town?' I could, but what if I take her away from Charles Town and she gets beat bad or I get her hurt, I'd feel horrible," McKee said. Her record stands at 8-for-11, with two placings.

Match Game

You wouldn't expect two four-win trainers on a 10-race card, but Jeff Runco, the 16-time leading trainer at Charles Town, also made four trips to the winner's circle on Breeders Classics night. He didn't waste any time, taking the Vincent Moscarelli Memorial for 2-year-olds with Annapolis Road. The homebred Outwork colt is out of a mare – Kentucky Road – Runco and his wife, Susan, who make up Coleswood Farm, bought for $42,000 at Keeneland November in 2021.

Sent off as the odds-on favorite, Annapolis Road survived an adventurous trip, being carried out entering the stretch and lugging in down the lane, to win by 1½ lengths. Arnaldo Bocachica, who won five races on the card, including all four for Runco, had the mount on Annapolis Road, who won for the second time in three starts.

Duncan Idaho, a full-brother to Overnight Pow Wow and a half to Muad'dib, took the West Virginia Dash for Cash, closing from fourth to win by a neck. The 4-year-old colt, bred by John McKee and purchased privately as a yearling by Runco for David Raim, won for the 10th time in 16 starts. He came back to run second in a Nov. 2 allowance.

Runco had to wait three hours for his next win, but it was well worth it, when Runaldo successfully stretched out from a sprint to 9 furlongs to take the feature, the $300,000 Sam

Annapolis Road gears down while winning the Vincent Moscarelli for 2-year-olds, the first of a four-win night for trainer Jeff Runco.

Huff West Virginia Breeders Classic. The Huntertown Farm homebred had to run down 1-10 favorite Jubawithatwist, who came in with eight wins in 13 starts. Runco-trained Muad'dib, who won this race in 2021 and 2022 and finished second last year, settled for third as the first three separated from the others.

"They were all at the wire at the same time," Runco said. "I really liked him going in the race. He's been training spectacular. I had six weeks between races and I wanted to stretch the horse out for this race."

That proved to be a good plan.

Runco completed the grand slam with another homebred, 5-year-old Change the World, who took the Roger Ramey Distaff to pick up her first stakes win. Coleswood bought the stakes-placed Any Given Saturday mare, Saturday Nthe Park, for $62,000 at Keeneland November in 2017.

"First stakes win, first time stretching out. I've been dying to stretch her out, too," Runco said. "She loves the distance [1⅛ miles]. She just wants to go all day. She settled back, and then she got in stride past the half-mile pole. You could see her leveling off, and then she just started picking them up. I was pretty confident watching the race. I was sitting there with my wife, I said, 'Here she comes.' And she just went right on by them. She ran textbook. It was wonderful."

Change the World returned to run second to Juba's Parade in the My Sister Pearl Stakes Nov. 9, a flip of the Ramey results.

Even after all the training titles and Breeders Classics wins, Runco will never take a night like this for granted.

"No, it never gets old," he said. "It's tough to do. It takes a lot of planning, trying to have all the horses in their best shape for that night. There's a lot of team effort. My wife is a big part of it. She's bred and picked out plenty of great horses over the years. My assistants and the exercise riders . . . it's a lot of work and we love it. We take our time and we think it out and try to get things so we can do the best we can on the night because it's a big night for everybody."

NOTES: The only two winners on the card not trained by McKee or Runco were favorite Diakonissa, owned by Ultra Championship Racing and trained by Anthony Farrior, in the Triple Crown Nutrition for 2-year-old fillies, and Maggie's Girl, a Tim Grams homebred, in the Blue and Gold Stakes for fillies and mares to end the night. Bred by Michael Furr, Diakonissa cost $7,000 at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale last year. The daughter of Preservationist won for the third time. Maggie's Girl collected her 10th win – six last year and four so far in 2024. The daughter of Uncle Lino and the First Defence mare Maginot Line has never been worse than third in 16 starts through Nov. 11. ■

STEINMANN FAMILY ENJOYS BIG WIN WITH RUNALDO

By Paul Halloran

There were plenty of reasons for Eric Steinmann not to travel across the country to see Runaldo run in the Sam Huff West Virginia Breeders Classic at Charles Town Oct. 12.

Steinmann's father, Heinz, the patriarch of the family and founder of their Huntertown Farm racing operation, passed away five days before the race. A few weeks earlier, Eric and other family members had been forced to evacuate their homes in Wrightwood, Calif., due to wildfires that threatened their town. His brother, Heinz, lost a barn but, thankfully, the 13 horses he keeps there all survived.

"The fire was coming," Steinmann said. "My brother had to make a decision on what to do with them – let them loose or try to put them in a barn. He had a really well-built, cement barn, so he put them in there and they made it through."

When Jeff Runco called and said Runaldo, despite being 12th on the list of nominations for the 10-horse race, would draw in because the trainer was not going to run two of his other horses, Steinmann knew there was one compelling reason to make the trip to watch the horse and jockey Arnaldo Bocachica run for a $300,000 purse.

"There were a lot of family things going on, and no one was going to be able to go see the race," Steinmann said. "I didn't think that was respectful. So I made the arrangements to go out there at the last minute."

He was joined by Huntertown partner Glenn Ishihara, who watched the Los Angeles Dodgers beat San Diego in the deciding Game 5 of the National League Division Series Friday night, Oct. 11, then hopped a red-eye flight to meet Steinmann in Washington, D.C.

Runaldo – whose name is a combination of the trainer and jockey's first names, with a nod to the soccer superstar as well – made his first stakes start and first trip beyond 7 furlongs a smashing success, running down heavy favorite Jubawithatwist to give Huntertown its second-biggest score ever, after Creative Cause's win in the 2012 Grade 2 San Felipe Stakes at Santa Anita.

"It was incredible," Steinmann said. "You might hope to have something like that happen to you once. I saw with my dad, he was doing it for 40 years and he had a couple of things like that happen to him, but they certainly don't happen every year. It's pretty special."

When Runco decided he was going to run defending Sam Huff champion Coastal Mission in the Forty Niner Stakes-G3 at Aqueduct two weeks later and Social Chic in the 7-furlong Onion Juice Stakes on the Breeders Classics card, that opened a spot for Runaldo in the feature.

"I was very skeptical," Steinmann said, "but I told Jeff if he really thought it was a good idea to go for it. Nothing ventured, nothing gained."

Once Steinmann decided to make the trip, he told Ishihara, who came up with another reason to head to West Virginia.

"Glenn called me and said he had a dream that my dad was going to speak to us through this horse," Steinmann said, the partners figuring that they would be in a better position to hear the message at the racetrack.

"We met in Washington and rode there in an Uber with a driver from Afghanistan," Steinmann said. "We had a nice, interesting discussion. He dropped us off and said he had to go pray, and he couldn't come in [to the track]. But he said his religion respected horses, and he would put a word in for us."

As Runaldo began advancing from a mid-pack position, Steinmann, who had no expectations that his horse would actually win, found himself almost dumbfounded at what was unfolding.

"As the race developed, I was just stunned," he said. "I wasn't jumping up and down or anything. I just thought that he was going to hit 7 furlongs, which is the most he's ever gone, and that was going to be that. But he got 7 furlongs, and he was right in there with the other two. And then he stuck a nose in front. Then I started praying for the finish line, and it came."

The $135,000 winner's share made it one of the most profitable races in Huntertown's history – Creative Cause earned $180,000 in the 2012 San Felipe – but due to the circumstances leading up to the race, there was undoubtedly a priceless dynamic to it as well.

"It was a really good time for our whole family for that to happen," Steinmann said. "I just can't be thankful enough for all the people out there in West Virginia, as we have been the whole time."

It was also the end of a banner day, after Alpine Thunder, another Huntertown-bred runner, won an allowance at Keeneland that afternoon.

"We don't normally have much luck at all [outside of West Virginia], so it was a pretty exciting time all the way around," Steinmann said. "But I thought we had used up all our luck."

You have to think there was a higher power making sure that was not the case.

Heinz Steinmann came to the United States from Switzerland as a 16-year-old in the late 1940s. His father, John, started the Mountain High East Ski Resort in Wrightwood, about 80 miles northeast of Los Angeles in the San Gabriel Mountains. Heinz, an accomplished ski racer, took over the resort and operated it for two decades.

He ventured into Thoroughbred racing and raced multiple graded stakes winner Swiss Yodeler, a $761,442-earner on the track who became a foundation stallion for Steinmann, the 2017 California Breeder of the Year.

"I think he liked the horses because of the competition factor," Eric said. "When we were growing up, we spent a lot of time at the track – Santa Anita, Hollywood Park, Del Mar, the Pomona Fair circuit. He'd take one or two of us with him to the track all the time."

Taking all of them together would have presented a logistical challenge. Heinz Steinmann and his wife, Lora, had 11 children, who in turn had given them 46 grandchildren and 36 great-grandchildren when he passed away at age 92 Oct. 7 – five days before West Virginia Breeders Classics night.

He had retired from breeding and owning horses, but five of his children and six other partners took over Huntertown. In looking for a place to maximize their opportunities, Eric used technology to land on West Virginia.

The winner's circle celebration overflowed after Runaldo won the Sam Huff.

"I had a guy run a computer program, to see where would be the best place to race, given the performance of the horses versus the purse money, and it spit out West Virginia," he said. "At the same time that was going on, I read an article about O'Sullivan Farms. I asked somebody who was working with me to go meet the Funkhousers and see how we could make it work to get into the West Virginia program."

That discussion resulted in Swiss Yodeler moving to O'Sullivan as a stallion in 2015 and Huntertown housing mares at the farm for the last 10 years. Farm manager John Funkhouser introduced them to Runco and another partnership formed.

"The whole experience in West Virginia has been really good," Steinmann said. "It seems that our horses run more often there. They have more conditions that they can run in. Swiss Yodeler was a sprinter stallion and it seems that our horses like the short track. So we have nothing but good things to say about the West Virginia experience from our standpoint."

Their homebred filly Star of Night, by Creative Cause, won the 2021 Cavada and was a two-time West Virginia Horse of the Year, winning the award in 2020 and sharing the honors with Muad'dib in 2021.

Huntertown bought the broodmare Boozin' Susan and sent her to Creative Cause in 2019, resulting in Runaldo. "We thought we'd get one or two horses out of her, and that's what we did," Steinmann said.

Five years later, the jockey statue atop the scale house at Charles Town is adorned with the green and blue silks of Heinz Steinmann's Huntertown Farm.

"When we got that picture, we circulated it around the family," Eric said. "All of it was just a really nice experience at absolutely the right time." ■

MORE THAN 30 YEARS FROM START, ZWP MOTORS ON WITH IT'S HAMMERTIME

By John Piassek

When the events department at Delaware Park decided to host a handicapping contest in 1992, they surely couldn't have imagined its ripple effects would play out on the track, and throughout the Mid-Atlantic, more than three decades later.

Foard Wilgis and Dave Picarello, Teamsters from Baltimore, finished second in that contest and took home $4,000. Rather than invest that money at the betting windows, they decided to purchase a horse. They convinced another friend, Kenny Ziegler [later bought out by Picarello] to chip in, and bought a yearling filly named Cherokee Wonder for $5,500 at the 1992 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic December mixed sale. With that, ZWP Stable was on its way.

After all this time, ZWP, now owned by Elliot and Melanie Campbell, continues to enhance its legacy. It's Hammertime, owned by Eagle Up Stable, London Reid Thoroughbreds, and trainer Gary Capuano's Non Stop Stable, earned his second stakes victory Oct. 9 at Delaware, taking the 1-mile Rocky Run by 1½ lengths as the 7-10 favorite. Previously, he won the First State Dash by 5 lengths on the same track Sept. 11. He's out of Steady N Love, bred by ZWP along with Capuano, and kept as a broodmare after her racing career. Capuano's prowess as a trainer and purchaser has taken ZWP a long way.

It's Hammertime's story began at the 2002 December sale. Capuano purchased a Maryland-bred Malibu Moon filly for $14,500.

"I was at the sale, and she caught my eye," Capuano said. "Malibu Moon was a young sire just starting out. She was out of a Cure the Blues mare, who I had followed pretty closely, and I liked what I saw. The rest was history, and it turned out pretty well."

Slow and Steady won four of 20 starts, placed in 10 more, and earned $123,510, but left her biggest mark as a broodmare.

"Foard and Dave wanted to keep her and breed her, and that started it," Capuano said. "She could run, had ability. She looked nice, she was built nice, and we thought she'd make a pretty decent broodmare."

Her first foal, a Soto colt named Cappiwino, broke his maiden by 10¼ lengths on debut at Laurel Park in September 2009 and was subsequently purchased by Godolphin for a substantial sum and sent to Dubai. Her next foal, Steady Warrior, captured the 2010 Maryland Million Nursery, was named Maryland-bred champion 2-year-old and earned $253,876. Steady Warrior and Slow and Steady's next two foals, six-figure earners Who Dat Boy and Hanky Doodle, were by ZWP homebred Cherokee's Boy.

Cherokee's Boy was the second and final foal produced by Cherokee Wonder, who earned her auction price many times over on the track, with eight victories, including a pair of stakes, and earnings of $284,010. She passed from colic in 2002.

By Citidancer, Cherokee's Boy carried his dam's legacy with 14 stakes wins [at least two each year from ages 2 to 6] and earned nearly $1.2 million. He put ZWP and Capuano in the national spotlight in 2003, when he competed in the Preakness Stakes-G1. Two years later, he was the Maryland-bred Horse of the Year. Steady Warrior was in his first crop.

Cherokee's Boy's success piqued Campbell's interest in racing. Not long after moving to Maryland from Oklahoma, he walked into Picarello's GNC store in the Canton neighborhood of Baltimore. They quickly became friends. Picarello invited Campbell, unfamiliar with racing, to watch one of Cherokee's Boy's races at Delaware. When the colt won, Campbell was hooked.

HOOFPRINTS, INC

It's Hammertime brought his team to the winner's circle after the First State Dash at Delaware Park Sept. 11.

Even after moving to Ohio in 2008, Campbell, who co-owns a medical equipment company, remained interested in the sport.

"When Foard passed away [in May 2022], Dave came to me and said, 'Hey, would you be interested in buying Foard's share of the horses,'" said Campbell. "Fortunately, my wife and I were in a position to do just that, so we did."

Picarello died in January 2023, and Campbell made the decision to carry on the ZWP banner in tribute to his friend. "Gary and [his daughter] Tori and a lot of people depend on us and that name, so we decided to keep going, rather than disband the stable."

By then, Slow and Steady had become the cornerstone of the operation. All 11 of her foals to start are winners, with seven stakes wins, 20 stakes placings, and more than $2.1 million in earnings between them. She was named Maryland Broodmare of the Year in 2022, the year her daughter Malibu Beauty [by Buffum] won three stakes and placed in two more. Slow and Steady's first filly, Steady N Love (Not For Love), won three times in 18 starts, including the 2014 Caesar's Wish Stakes, and earned $241,305.

"ZWP owned Cherokee's Boy, and when he went to stud [the majority of his career at Murmur Farm], we were doing what we could to support him," said Capuano. "We decided we needed to do a little more commercial breeding, and we wanted to stay local if we could. Not For Love, at the time, was as solid as they come, so we decided to breed to him. Steady N Love was another nice filly. She had a lot of speed, a pretty sound horse, and she was just like the rest of [the Slow and Steadys]."

Steady N Love joined the ZWP broodmare band upon her racing retirement, and delivered her fifth live foal, a Vekoma colt, in May 2022.

"Both mares match up really well with the Candy Ride bloodline, and Vekoma was a pretty nice horse in himself," said Capuano, "and we thought it was a good match."

"In the paddock, when the other 2-year-olds are acting up, and maybe not as comfortable with the situation, he doesn't make a noise. He knows what he's supposed to do."

–Owner Elliot Campbell, about watching It's Hammertime

Getting in early on Vekoma ended up being a shrewd move. It's Hammertime is one of four stakes winners from the first crop of the Spendthrift stallion. As of Nov. 14, Vekoma ranked second among first-crop stallions in the country, with 33 winners and progeny earnings of nearly $2.3 million.

Campbell didn't want to sell the colt at a public sale, and convinced Capuano to keep him around.

"Historically, we sell one or two of our foals at auction," said Campbell, "but I went to Gary and said, 'Why don't you let me see if I can't raise the money with some friends.' He said, 'OK, let's do it.' "

Campbell's friends race under the name Eagle Up Stables, while Campbell owns It's Hammertime under London Reid Thoroughbreds, in tribute to his sons' middle names. He's also the managing partner of Eagle Up. The colt was named in tribute to Lewis Hamilton, Campbell's boys' favorite Formula One driver who is told "It's Hammertime" when it's time for him to drive his fastest.

Foaled at Roland Farm in Chesapeake City, It's Hammertime was raised at Lynn Ashby's Marlyn Meadows Farm in Middletown, Del., did his early work at Ashby's Middletown Training Center, and was ready in time for a 5-furlong maiden special weight at Delaware June 5. Capuano's youngsters usually aren't ready so early, but a combination of decent winter weather, plenty of help around the training center and a well-put-together pupil made for a perfect combination.

"He was always a good-looking horse. He's not a huge horse, but he's put together well, he has a good attitude," said Capuano. "[The Slow and Steadys] are all kind of forward, they're a little bit aggressive as young horses but they mellow out, and they just keep running."

Sent off as the 13-10 favorite in the six-horse field, It's Hammertime battled with highly touted Cal Lynch trainee Fortheloveofrun, who made his debut at Keeneland. It's Hammertime shook him off and drew away to win by 8 lengths. Campbell, watching from Ohio, was excited. He invited some other co-owners to his house to watch the race, and kept the ring camera video of their reactions.

"He broke well, he was on the lead, and that very well-thought of horse came alongside us and looked like he was going to rush right by him," Campbell said. "When [Gabriel Maldonado] asked for more, he just took off. It was awesome."

Following that race, It's Hammertime was turned out for a few weeks, and returned to the worktab in early August. He was entered and scratched in the Aug. 14 Dover Stakes, but was ready in time for the First State Dash. Along with Picarello's widow, Angie, Campbell made the trip to watch his colt in person. He was impressed.

"I can tell you from conversations with Tori, when he sees horses coming back from the track, and he hasn't been on the track, he's vocal that he wants to be out there," said Campbell. "He loves to run. In the paddock, when the other 2-year-olds are acting up, and maybe not as comfortable with the situation, he doesn't make a noise. He knows what he's supposed to do."

After his First State Dash victory at 6 furlongs, the Rocky Run was next. It marked a test to see how he could handle a longer distance. Capuano and Campbell weren't overly concerned. The colt received a pair of Capuano specials, working a mile at Delaware Sept. 24 and again Oct. 2 to ensure he was fit enough.

"I had been working him up, trying to get two turns out of him. The more I did with him, it seemed the more he wanted, and it just worked out that he was ready," said Capuano.

"Anytime you ask a 2-year-old to do something new, there's concern,' said Campbell. "He's been such a professional. But you don't know until you know."

There was little reason to worry, as It's Hammertime overcame a wide trip to win as much the best. Julio Hernandez, who rode him to victory in the First State Dash, had the mount.

In his start Nov. 2, It's Hammertime finished fourth as the favorite in Aqueduct's 1-mile Nashua Stakes, a race won by fellow Maryland-bred Studlydoright. It's Hammertime sat off the pace that day, as by design, and came up empty in the last eighth.

"I kind of wanted to rate him a little bit, stay off the pace, make a nice run, and hope it would turn out well that way, but unfortunately, it didn't turn out the way we were hoping," said

Capuano. "He couldn't relax down the backstretch. He was fighting [Jorge Ruiz] quite a bit, which he probably didn't like, but he was still able to make a run to get himself into contention. He just kind of flattened out the last eighth or sixteenth of a mile, so it was just one of those things. He came out of the race really good."

It's Hammertime will stay at Laurel for at least his next few starts, with an eye on the 3-year-old Maryland winter/spring stakes schedule that will culminate in the Federico Tesio Stakes, won by Cherokee's Boy in 2003.

"We're going to point him to these races at Laurel and see how it goes," said Campbell. "The ownership group would love nothing more than to run in Grade 1 races, as every ownership group would like, but the thing about Gary is he's not going to put him in a position where he's not competitive. That's exactly what you want in a trainer. He's won at a two-turn mile, and he was pulling away from a very nice two-turn horse. I suspect the idea of him getting 1 1/16 miles or 1 1/8 miles, especially once we put some stamina in him, is doable, but depending on if and how he wins his next two races, that will tell us a lot.

"I think a realistic goal would be to try to go [in Maryland's 3-year-old stakes], and if somehow, someway, he shows us he can easily get those distances with some of the best 2- and 3-year-olds [in the region], maybe the Derby can happen. I know it's a huge, huge longshot, but even when you're lying in bed at night, it's something you think about."

For now, Campbell and the other co-owners are thrilled watching It's Hammertime's success.

"What means a lot to us is that Dave's wife, who is one of my wife and I's closest friends, she's able to watch, she's joining us for races, and that's probably the most important thing to us. Horse racing was such a huge part of the Picarellos' world and it's cathartic for us all to see It's Hammertime do well."

ZWP and Capuano bred Steady N Love to another son of Candy Ride, Game Winner, for 2023 and 2024. She produced a colt May 2, 2023, and a filly exactly a year later. She was bred to Mandaloun for 2025, but did not catch. While she has a ways to go to match her mother's legacy, she's off to a promising start; from five starters, she's produced four winners, including 2021 Laurel stakes winner Shackled Love.

Slow and Steady, meanwhile, was also bred to Game Winner for 2024, and delivered a colt May 9. Because of the late foaling date, she was not bred for 2025, but the plan is to breed her for 2026 before retiring her. ■

As I read with interest Joe Clancy's Fasig-Tipton fall yearling sale wrap-up in the November edition, I was touched by the story of how Becky Davis had named a filly after something her daughter had said to her years earlier. That filly, How My Heart Works, has become a prolific broodmare – topping the sale with yearlings in 2023 and 2024.

Her Nyquist colt was the most expensive in the 2023 edition of the sale on a $205,000 bid by Thorostock and Seth Morris Thoroughbreds. This year her City of Light filly sold for $165,000 to Parx Racing-based LC Racing and trainer Butch Reid.

In his November article Joe wrote that history had been made at Timonium when two yearlings out of the same mare topped the sale in consecutive years. This is, indeed, a signal accomplishment and it reminded me of a period a decade ago when Dixie and I almost pulled off the same double.

Before I tell that story, I want to say how greatly I admire Becky's achievement. To top any sale takes luck, horsemanship, wisdom and guts. Luck because we are all playing the genetic lottery every time we select a mating for any mare. Horsemanship, because how we care for our mares, deliver their foals, and raise and prepare those foals requires years of experience. Wisdom because, while many have data and information and some have knowledge, very few have the wisdom to evaluate the horse and the market and bring those two together at just the right time.

Most important is the guts you must have to bypass glitzier options in the yearling market while watching thousands of yearlings sell for hundreds of million dollars in Kentucky and Saratoga while you wait patiently for the first week in October. Believe me, this is torture. Becky Davis and her parents, Tom and Chris Bowman, have all those attributes in spades.

Our own brush with history occurred in 2010 and 2011.

I have written so often about our mare Christmas Strike that readers are probably sick of her, but I will never tire of writing about our "horse who changed everything." Our entire business was so inextricably tied to her career that it is almost impossible to tell stories of Charlton in the 21st century and leave her unmentioned.

We bought the daughter of Smart Strike and the Green Desert mare Christmas Gift for $10,000 in November 2001 in foal to Pleasant Tap and sold that colt, who became stakes-placed, at Timonium for $35,000. After a barren year, we sold her 2004 Holy Bull filly, who became stakes-placed, for $100,000. In 2006, after buying out our partner, we sold her Out of Place colt for $42,000 to Mark Reid. That colt became Double Down Vinman, a stakes winner of 20 races and $540,204.

After two more successful sales ($70,000 for a Lion Hearted colt and $65,000 for a Stormin Fever colt) we, for some reason, offered the mare at Keeneland November 2008. Sent into the ring, in foal to After Market, with a $100,000 reserve she failed to sell and we brought her back to Charlton where she produced a chestnut colt.

The After Market colt was a smasher from day one. The colt was from the first crop of that stallion, who had done all of his winning on the turf at a time when turf sires were considerably more suspect than at present. We knew he was a good colt but, as we had sold all of Christmas Strike's foals at Timonium, I don't recall ever discussing sending him anywhere else. The colt, beautifully prepared by Dixie and her team, went to the sale as, clearly, our best horse.

When selling at Timonium, at that time, you were really trying to attract an audience of two. Samantha Siegel's Jay Em Ess Stable and Ellen Charles' Hillwood Stable were the leading buyers of expensive yearlings for many years. Siegel had an entire team of advisors and Charles had the legendary horseman Rodney Jenkins at her side. As a seller, if you could attract those two, you were going to have a very good day. In 2006, Siegel's team had rejected Double Down Vinman as being too small. Four years later, I was happy to point out his 20 wins and half-million dollars in earnings.

Jenkins came to see the colt and then returned with Charles. They both admire big, beautiful horses and he fit their bill. By the look on Rodney's face, I could tell he was sold. I wasn't as sure of his owner. The night before he was to sell I got a call from the pinhookers who had bought Christmas Strike's first foal. They wanted to buy the colt before he went to the ring. Feeling cocky, I quoted a price of $125,000 thinking that was a premium. They elected to pass.

Sale day found me in Timonium dealing with numerous vettings while Dixie was in Pennsylvania Hospital where our daughter Carly was in labor awaiting the delivery of her first child. As Carly labored, Dixie and our son-in-law Justin watched on the computer as the After Market colt strode into the ring and became the subject of an intense bidding duel between Jay Em Ess and Hillwood, resulting in a sales-topping bid by Siegel of $250,000. I left Timonium shortly thereafter to drive to Philadelphia where I met Wren Charlton Overcash – 10/5/10 will always be a holiday at our house.

While all that excitement was happening, Christmas Strike's weanling – a bay son of Harlan's Holiday – was happily cavorting in the fields at Charlton. I had always liked the Storm Cat line for the mare and Harlan's Holiday was by Harlan, a Storm Cat son totally proven in the stud. The following year, realizing that the mare had developed a following at Timonium, we again chose to stay at home with her colt and sell in Maryland.

Here is where the story diverges slightly from the tale of How My Heart Works. The Harlan's Holiday colt was a star in October, but he only managed to be the second-highest priced yearling at the 2011 sale on a $180,000 bid from Larry Karp's Barlar operation. Only a $200,000 Hard Spun colt from the Paramount consignment topped our colt.

Later that fall we sold Christmas Strike's Hard Spun weanling colt, bred in a foal share with Darley, for $195,000 at Keeneland November. Perhaps if we had hung onto him he might have topped the 2012 sale. As a consolation we did top that sale with a $300,000 Audley Farm-bred Malibu Moon filly out of Never Fail. The buyer? Ellen Charles. ■

The Steeplechase Times

Big Moment

SNAP DECISION STANDS, DELIVERS IN GRADE 1 GRAND NATIONAL

By Joe Clancy ■ Photographs by Tod Marks

Horses can't read or talk, but do they know when a race matters more than another? Do they grasp the importance at hand?

Probably not, but man it's fun to ponder.

Snap Decision, the best American steeplechaser of the last five years, stood and delivered when it counted in the $250,000 American Grand National-G1, the signature race on U.S. jump racing's biggest day at the Far Hills Races in Far Hills, N.J., Oct. 19. In a race he'd lost three times, he got passed by two horses in the stretch, only to fight back between them and win by a neck after a 2⅝-mile chess match. Worth $150,000, victory carried way more value in terms of reputation and if the 10-year-old gelding didn't know, he sure acted like he did.

"Look, it's a tough sport and everyone deserves to win," jockey Graham Watters said. "But I think he definitely deserved to have that race. He's done amazing things for the sport. He's definitely our showcase horse for the sport, for steeplechasing in America."

The votes don't get counted until January, and he's been a finalist four times, but Snap Decision should collect his first Eclipse Award as champion steeplechaser with three wins in five starts and a circuit-best $337,500 in earnings this year. He was the only multiple Grade 1 winner on the year.

Three times, he came to the Grand National with a chance to sew up a title.

In 2021, fast-burning mare The Mean Queen (Ire) beat him a half-length while in receipt of eight pounds and won the Eclipse Award. In 2022, Hewick (Ire) came to Far Hills and won as Snap Decision struggled in the soft turf and finished sixth. The one start was enough for enough voters, who gave the Irish-based horse the American crown. In 2023, again in going he hated, Snap Decision was pulled up by Watters as Noah And The Ark (Ire) upset the race and Merry Maker (Ire) won the Eclipse.

On a firm course this time, Snap Decision met eight rivals for trainer Jack Fisher. Noah And The Ark and Merry Maker were there. So were 2024 Grade 1 winners Jimmy P and L'Imperator (Fr). Novice hurdler and former standout Irish flat horse High Definition (Ire) represented leading trainer Leslie Young. Irish trainer Gordon Elliott, who won three races at Far Hills in 2023, sent 13-time winner Galvin (Ire). Sebastopol (Ire) returned after an upset of Snap Decision two weeks earlier in a prep at Foxfield in Virginia.

Longshot Frontline Citizen (Ire) led over the first six fences, followed by Snap Decision, Galvin and Sebastopol as High Definition settled behind them. Snap Decision flew the seventh fence, as Frontline Citizen chipped in and cost Galvin some momentum, and led over the eighth and ninth. With a lap to go, Frontline Citizen went back to the front and Snap Decision returned to stalking.

Simmering for more than 2 miles, the race reached a boil on the final turn.

Snap Decision took over from Frontline Citizen and in a matter of strides put 2 lengths on closest pursuers High Definition and Galvin. Just as quickly, they closed the gap. Snap Decision and jockey Graham Watters jumped the last in front. Outside, former Coolmore flat runner High Definition surged alongside for Jamie Bargary. Inside, Galvin dug in, matched the move and responded to left-handed urging from Snap Decision leads over the last in the American Grand National as High Definition (blue and green silks) and Galvin (inside) launch bids and Frontline Citizen (center) gives way.

Jack Kennedy. High Definiton led, then Galvin did. Battling but losing, Snap Decision looked beaten.

Looked.

Channeling his granddam Personal Ensign – who went 13-for-13 and won her final start by a nose at the Breeders' Cup – Snap Decision repelled High Definition and went to work on Galvin. Four strides from the wire, the son of Hard Spun pulled even, switched back to his right lead and scored by a neck after 5:02.86. Galvin, making his first start since placing fourth in April's Aintree Grand National, claimed second with 2021 Irish Derby favorite High Definition another neck back in third. L'Imperator, Noah And The Ark, Sebastopol, Jimmy P, Frontline Citizen and Merry Maker completed the order. Just 5 lengths separated the first seven.

In front coming to the last fence, Snap Decision pricked his ears as if to get a good look, and the two rivals pounced.

"He got underneath it a bit and we landed a bit flat-footed," said Watters of the final jump. "The two other horses came either side of him. Maybe it was the best thing because "It was a massive performance, and it's a fantastic race to win because we've been denied it a couple of times. But, finally."

– Jockey Graham Watters, about Snap Decision's first Grand National score in four tries Filly/mare champion Gold Charm charges into the fray while making a late rally in the Peapack Stakes at Far Hills. She capped her year with a win over males in the Hobkirk Hill at Camden, S.C., Nov. 17.

it really forced him to put his head down, pin his ears back on his neck and really push down to the line."

Watters said he could feel that effort, maybe for only the second or third time in 17 races together. When he wins, Snap Decision typically jumps the last in command. Finding more isn't always required.

"You don't know if you've run out of time," the jockey said. "It's a tough little hill up to the finish line here. It really gets them back on their hocks after [2⅝ miles], even on that ground, and we think even though he's won at Nashville three times and it's 3 miles, 2-5, 2-6 is his absolute ideal trip. He just really sees it out. Three miles stretches him a bit. But today, you can't get better than that. That was something else."

Watters wasn't sure who won until the official announcement came over the speaker system.

"I thought I won, but in those head bobs, you never know," he said. "So I was like, 'I'm not going to get emotional,' then I heard his number being called. I got so emotional after that."

Understandable. For all his excellence – four prior Grade 1 scores, a record-tying nine consecutive hurdle wins, five victories under 162 pounds or more and six seasons of at least two wins – Snap Decision needed to produce a prove-it moment.

And did.

"It was a massive performance, and it's a fantastic race to win because we've been denied it a couple of times," Watters said. "But, finally."

Racing for the Bruton Street-US stable of Mike Hankin, Charlie Fenwick and Charlie Noell, the Kentucky-bred has won 16 times in 28 starts over hurdles after completing 2024 with a third behind Too Friendly (GB) and Noah And The Ark in the Colonial Cup-G1 Nov. 17. The line includes seven seconds, two thirds and $1,131,900 earned – second only to Hall of Famer McDynamo's $1,310,104. Maryland-bred Good Night Shirt, also a Hall of Famer, is the only other millionaire.

Far Hills Stands Tall

The richest stop on the U.S. steeplechase circuit at $720,000 in total purses, Far Hills offered major races throughout the program.

Runnymoore Racing's Clifton Down (Ire) won the Harry Harris Stakes for 4-year-old hurdlers to start the card. The son of Irish-bred Lope de Vega won a similar race in May and stamped himself the best of his division for Young and Bargary. The winner passed Biggerthanbigtime (Ire) in the stretch and kicked away from Hidden Path late to score by 7¼ lengths.

The condition book got creative for the second race, the inaugural McDynamo Maiden Hurdle, which offered a $50,000 base purse and a sweepstakes component that boosted the value to $70,000 while honoring Far Hills hero McDynamo. Gill Johnston's Minella Juke (Ire) rallied last of all to get past Moonshine Time (Ire) and Memento (Fr) in the stretch and win by a half-length for Fisher and Watters. The 5-year-old cost $177,931 at Goffs in the spring and came into the race off a second at Shawan Downs.

McDynamo won a race at the New Jersey meet seven years in a row – a maiden hurdle in 2001, a novice in 2002 and then five consecutive runnings of the Grand National – for owners Michael and Anne Moran and trainer Sanna Neilson. The Morans donated a trophy and added $1,000 per starter to the purse, along with $1,000 from the owner of each entrant.

Irv Naylor's Gold Charm (Ire) sewed up the filly/mare championship with her second stakes win of the year in the $100,000 Peapack for trainer Cyril Murphy. Gerard Galligan rode the 5-year-old daughter of Golden Horn (GB) and the Cozzene mare Deveron after Harry Beswick was injured one race earlier. Gold Charm won for the fourth time in eight starts over jumps, all in the U.S.

Going Country is no Snap Decision, but came through in a big spot – finally – in the $100,000 Foxbrook Champion Hurdle for novices. The 8-year-old gelding by Irish-bred legend Yeats won for the first time since April 2022, a string of 14 races, by besting Abaan by 7¼ lengths with Kiyomori third. Old Tom Morris (Ire) looked to have the race won late, but shortened stride in the stretch and pulled up with an injury.

Going Country collected the $60,000 payoff, to the delight of jockey Stephen Mulqueen, trainer Keri Brion and an ownership group consisting of Madaket Stables, R and K Racing and The International Venture. Beyond major flat owner Madaket, the group includes some 20 individuals who own small percentages of several horses and are happy to provide the cheering squad.

"There was a group at Far Hills and they had a lot of fun," said Brion.

Going Country won his first two starts of the 2022 season and placed in four stakes that year. His 2023 included three spring starts and a suspensory injury that cost him the second half of the year. He lost his first five this year, topped by a second in the Jonathan Sheppard-G1 at Saratoga.

Carloun streaks to victory, his third in a row, in the inaugural William Allison at Glenwood Park in Middleburg, Va.

"He doesn't care at all," Brion said of the losing streak. "You'd think it would be hard on him. He had three runs at racetracks this summer and before Far Hills, Stephen was like, 'I swear he feels better than he did before the last race.' I think he could get beat a hundred times and if things go well, he'd still try and run his best race the next time."

For the third time, Far Hills hosted the 2-mile John Forbes Memorial flat race to finish the card. Honoring the New Jersey trainer and horsemen's leader who died in 2021, the $150,000 race came into its own in 2024 as graded winner The Grey Wizard (Ire) showed up in a field of 12 that also included quality turf runners Curbstone, Lord Flintshire, Dean Martini, British Royalty, California Frolic and Winning Spirit (Ger). Trained by Graham Motion for Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners and the estate of Albert Frassetto, The Grey Wizard lived up to his 3-5 favoritism and won by a half-length over stubborn leader Curbstone after 3:29.16. Lord Flintshire finished third. Sent off at 59-1, Curbstone paid $35.20 to place. Jump jockey Parker Hendriks rode the winner, who won the 2-mile Belmont Gold Cup-G2 at Saratoga in May and the 1½-mile Cape Henlopen at Delaware Park in August.

Far Hills handled $431,832 on the day, roughly four times the 2023 figure.

Inside the Wings

Going Country wasn't the only autumn highlight for the Brion barn as Freddy Flintshire and Carloun (Ire) took down Grade 1 hurdle stakes in September and October, respectively.

Upland Flats Racing's Freddy Flintshire got a savvy ride from Mulqueen in the $150,000 Lonesome Glory at Aqueduct Sept. 19, rallying around horses from fourth on the turn to get the jump on L'Imperator in the stretch and win by a length. Hidden Path wound up third in a five-horse field.

Purchased from Qatar Racing and trainer Brendan Walsh, the 6-year-old Flintshire gelding won for the fourth time in a jump career that began in November 2021. He won twice in 2022, once last year and prepped for the Lonesome Glory with a third in the A.P. Smithwick-G1 at Saratoga in July. He was third in the same race in 2023 and hadn't won since April 2023.

"He's been a bit hard luck," Brion said. "Never had any serious injuries, just little things plaguing him. He's been a little bit unlucky, but is a barn favorite and a real sweet horse."

A week after Far Hills hosted its championship card, the International Gold Cup meet unwrapped a new Grade 1 in the $150,000 William H. Allison Stakes as part of a card relocated to Glenwood Park in Middleburg, Va., due to course conditions at Great Meadow. Run on turf labeled hard, the Allison turned into a runaway for front-running Carloun who handled 2⅛ miles and three rivals with ease. The 5-year-old scored by 3½ lengths while picking up his third consecutive win after a maiden in August and a handicap Oct. 12. One start before the streak, which amassed $129,000 in purses, the son of Kingman (GB) ran for a $20,000 claiming tag at Laurel Park June 14.

Owned by Molly and Paul Willis, Carloun fell at Far Hills last year and fractured his neck.

"It healed with time, but he was in a stall for three months," said Brion. "We were running him on the flat and he ran fine, but the flat races aren't far enough for him. Paul was like, 'Could we just try again with the jumping?' When we started, he was really good at it."

While that jumping style is still a work in progress, the 15-hand Carloun thrived under new tactics of racing on the front end as he led throughout in all three wins.

"When he's in front, the jumps bring him back and he gets a breather," Brion said. "The running style suits him, and we picked places that style suited. He's speedy. He's a runoff training, and trains in bungees, a hood and a ring bit."

■ Veteran Noah And The Ark was thrilled to get away from Snap Decision for the $75,000 Noel Laing Stakes-G3 at the Montpelier Hunt Races in Virginia Nov. 2 as he handled four less-experienced foes in a 4¾-length jaunt over the meet's traditional brush course.

Trained by Todd McKenna for Keystone Thoroughbreds, the winner raced in the back early and surged past Frontline Citizen over the last fence to win for the fourth time in the U.S. and eighth time overall. Galligan rode the winner, a 10-year-old Vinnie Roe gelding imported for the 2020 season. He'd finished behind Snap Decision in all three starts of 2024 – the Temple Gwathmey-G2 in April, the Iroquois-G1 in May and the Grand National-G1 in October.

McKenna nearly didn't make the trip.

I was not going to run," he said. "I watched every year for five years and it's never a clean race. People are swerving everywhere, the lead changes, horses jump everywhere, it's not a steady race. The jumps aren't that big, they're just different. The ground has been firm at home, and I was just thinking I'd wait until the Colonial Cup [Nov. 17]."

McKenna called Galligan the night before and the jockey turned into a motivational speaker.

"Todd, you're going to scratch the favorite out of the Noel Laing?" he asked.

"Yeah," McKenna replied, rattling off all the reasons not to run.

"No, you're not."

Eventually, Galligan wore him down and McKenna said, "OK, I'm not. See you tomorrow."

Noah And The Ark did the rest, earning $45,000 to get to $432,838 for his career over jumps.

■ Westerland (GB) continued his resurgent season with a win in the $75,000 Aflac Supreme novice hurdle stakes at Callaway Gardens Nov. 2. Trained by Kathy Neislon for Irv Naylor, the 9-year-old was disqualified from a $15,000 starter maiden hurdle win at Radnor in May for a medication overage, but won a $50,000 maiden at Colonial Downs in August, placed third in a $100,000 novice stakes at Saratoga that month and added the Aflac to get to $95,500 in earnings this year. Counting the disqualification, he lost the first 19 starts of his steeplechase career, which began in 2020 . . . Keys Discount, bred in Maryland by Brian Minnich, won a maiden timber at Shawan Downs in September for Dolly Fisher, trainer Jack Fisher and apprentice jockey Whitney Schweizer . . . Anticipating, bred in Pennsylvania by Jonathan Sheppard, won a maiden timber at Middleburg in October for Sherry Fenwick, Neil Morris and apprentice Evan Dwan . . . Samui Sunset, a Seville (Ger) gelding bred in Maryland by Harry Kassap, won a maiden claiming hurdle for The Hundred Acre Field, Mark Beecher and apprentice Dan Nevin at Montpelier . . . Love Saga, a Mosler mare bred in Maryland by Country Life Farm and the Sagamoon broodmare partnership, won a handicap hurdle at Montpelier for Ivy Hill Stable and trainer/jockey Sean McDermott . . . The fall drought forced the cancelations of the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup and Charleston Steeplechase meets due to firm turf conditions. ■

Steeplechase, flat trainer Riker passes away

Former Thoroughbred owner and stakes-winning trainer Audrey Riker died Oct. 30 at her home in White Hall, Md. Riker trained horses over fences and on the flat for five decades, beginning in the late 1950s until her retirement in early 2000. She was 89.

Riker's love of horses began in her youth at her parent's farm in Holmdel, N.J. Her equestrian passion grew as a student at Garrison Forest School in Maryland, and again as a member of the riding club at Vassar College in New York. After Vassar, Riker moved to Maryland, became a member of the Elkridge-Harford Hunt and taught French and history at Oldfields School before committing to a full-time career as a trainer.

Riker began working for Hall of Fame trainer D.M. "Mikey" Smithwick, eventually rising to assistant trainer for many years before branching out on her own. Golden Fly, the first successful runner Riker owned, emerged to be the National Steeplechase Association's timber champion in 1959. Bred in Maryland by Mrs. E.S. Voss, the daughter of Maryland Hunt Cup winner Peterski won six times that year, including the New Jersey Hunt Cup and Monmouth County Hunt Cup. She finished third in the Maryland Hunt Cup.

Riker's renown was boosted in part by her success running Golden Fly's daughter, Perfect Cast, who continued the family tradition by winning major timber races, including the Pennsylvania Hunt Cup in 1974.

DOUGLAS LEES

Perfect Cast ran in the demanding Maryland Hunt Cup three times, finishing second in 1977 and 1978 and third in 1979. Future racing Hall of Fame member *Ben Nevis II edged Perfect Cast by a length after a stiff stretch battle in 1977. The next year, they battled for nearly the entire 4 miles before *Ben Nevis finally kicked away after the last fence. He won by 10 lengths and set a course record, pressed by Perfect Cast.

"Let it not be imagined that Ben won without being challenged. That gallant 11-year-old mare Perfect Cast applied constant pressure to the front-running champion. Their duel resembled a ballet – a superb pas-de-deux of a prima ballerina and the world's finest dancer," wrote Missy Warfield in the Maryland Horse magazine. "They abetted each other to the peak of excellence."

In the late 1970s, Riker shifted her skills to flat racing in the Mid-Atlantic and spent her summers at Monmouth Park, sharing the shedrow with Hall of Fame trainer Frank Whiteley Jr. Monmouth Park was, in a sense, family – close to where she was raised and providing an opportunity to train for relatives known since childhood: Anne Ellis, Hope Jones and Isabelle de Tomaso, all daughters of Amory Haskell, a founder of Monmouth Park.

At the time of her retirement in 2000, Riker's small stable had earned more than $1.25 million in purses and included New Jersey-bred stakes winner Jewelry Sale among others.

Riker was a direct descendant of the early New York Dutch settler Abraham Rycken, who arrived in the colony of New Amsterdam in 1638 and later acquired land in what is now Newtown, Queens, as well as an island which still bears the Riker name.

Riker was preceded in death by her parents, William Chandler Riker and Mary Jackson Riker, sisters Anne "Pam" Jackson Riker and Margaret "Peggy" Riker Harding. Surviving Audrey is a brother, the Rev. William C. Riker of Locust, N.J., numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, Alcoholics Anonymous members she gathered from her more than 44 years of sobriety, and Deborah and Terry Erickson and their sons, T.R. and Andrew, who she loved as her chosen family. ■

Career Year

Rall enjoying 2024 success with homebreds

By Maryanna Skowronski

Born near Pittsburgh, Pa., but a Marylander since her days at Towson's Goucher College, Vivian Rall can point to one horse for her success with a small stable of homebreds over the past several years.

Aunt Sheila, a foal of 1970, continues to make an impact through a fourth generation of 2024 winners Icandothat, Super Chunk and Great Idea.

Vivian Rall checks out the Will O'Keefe trophy won by homebred Super Chunk at the Virginia Fall Races.

"I bought Aunt Sheila as a 2-year-old from Dot Smithwick," Rall said in November. "She and I clicked. She was a gutsy little racehorse. She won one on the flat and multiples over hurdles, even at Saratoga against the boys."

Bred in Virginia by Smithwick, then the wife of steeplechase trainer D.M. "Mikey" Smithwick and an accomplished horsewoman herself, Aunt Sheila was by notable steeplechase stallion *Mystic II out of the Besomer mare Cousin Yvonne. The jump-racing prowess went back another step to Cousin Yvonne's dam *External Relations, who raced over fences in Ireland and the United States.

Aunt Sheila won six races under rules for champion jockeys Joe Aitcheson and Tom Skiffington, plus point-to-point trips with Rall and others aboard, and when her racing career ended she became a broodmare. Her son Uncle Merlin won the 1989 Maryland Hunt Cup for Pat and Roy Chapman (of Smarty Jones fame) and trainer Paddy Neilson. Foaled in 1981, the son of Easy Gallop won once over hurdles and three times over timber in the U.S. In 1990, he scored over chase fences in England and was in contention before losing his rider at Becher's Brook in that year's English Grand National at Aintree.

After Uncle Merlin, Aunt Sheila produced 10-time flat winner Gala Gaiety and three-time flat winner Snow Leopard (by Northern Raja). Trained by Rall, the latter joined the broodmare ranks at Rall's Fallston farm and produced three foals to race – Pandora (who won twice for Rall and trainer Holly Robinson, but battled starting gate issues), timber winner Kinkajou and the winless Wolf Queen (who became a show horse).

Pandora (Press Card), went to the breeding shed and produced three winners from as many foals. The best, Calliope, won four times for Rall and Robinson from 2010-14 and earned $108,089. The daughter of Outflanker followed her first three dams to a broodmare career. She's on the verge of outpacing them all.

First foal Epic Idea (2016, by Great Notion) won the 2021 Maryland Million Ladies – after getting disqualified from a win in the 2020 edition – and two other races while earning $198,842 for Rall and trainers Ann and Michael Merryman.

Second foal Great Idea (2018, Great Notion) won for Rall in 2021 before getting claimed for $40,000 in July 2022. Since then, he has won four times and placed twice in stakes, most recently the Maryland Million Turf Sprint in October. While she was upset at the time, Rall said, "He's been sending me money regularly because he's a Maryland-bred and he wins. Phil Capuano trains him. I have to give him credit for taking care of him."

Third foal Icandothat (2019, Divining Rod) has won three times over hurdles for Rall and trainer/jockey Sean McDermott while putting up $84,819 in career earnings (flat and jump).

Fourth foal Super Chunk (2021, Super Ninety Nine) won the $50,000 Will O'Keefe Memorial hurdle stakes for 3-year-olds at the Virginia Fall meet in Middleburg, Va., Oct. 12 and finished second in the $50,000 Raymond Woolfe Memorial at Camden, S.C., Nov. 17 for McDermott.

Ann Merryman suggested McDermott to Rall, and the partnership has paid off.

"Icandothat was disappointing as a flat horse and Ann had retired and Michael was easing out of training, and I didn't know what I was going to do," Rall said. "Ann suggested Sean and it was a match made in heaven. Icandothat is a funny horse. His mind works too hard. He thinks about too many things. Sean knows how to get into his head. Sean is a terrific horseman. I can't say enough good things about him."

The feelings are mutual.

Of Rall McDermott said, "She's fantastic as an owner. She's very knowledgeable about her horses which makes life easier because she knows what can go wrong."

The partnership goes two ways, as Rall works to help McDermott get a better grasp on the breeding side of the Thoroughbred game.

"Sean rides and trains," she said. "By doing that he really knows the horses. I love that. He gets all the credit for my horses' successes. Sean's not into breeding but I've been trying to teach him."

He would be wise to pay attention. From small numbers, Rall has found success with a family of horses going back 50 years.

"She raises nice horses and is a wonderful human being, a hard worker," said Ann Merryman. "It's hard if you've been a trainer to turn your horses over to someone else. She's gracious and easy to get along with. I can't say enough good things about her."

Rall hasn't trained for herself in years, since Snow Leopard's racing days, and handed the reins to Robinson, then the Merrymans and now McDermott. The plan won't change much. Calliope's Divining Rod filly will be a 2-year-old of 2025. Epic Idea's foal of 2024 died at 4 months old, an outcome that nearly derailed her breeder.

"I wasn't sure I wanted to stay in the breeding game after losing the foal," Rall said, "but I thought it over and the two mares that I breed deserve to be bred so I will breed them next year."

More from a conversation with Vivian Rall:

How did you get introduced to horses?

"My family was not horsey at all, but I just fell in love. We'd go to the amusement park, and I'd gravitate to the pony rides and sit there and watch them go around. My uncle gave me a pony when I was seven. I spent summers on my aunt and uncle's farm, and I got to play with the pony all summer. And then when the pony died, I was in agony and my parents felt sorry for me and got me into Pony Club. Pony Club brought me along."

How did that progress to riding races?

"The guy who ran the stable where I kept my horse was from Virginia, John Beach. He got me into point-to-point racing. We'd ship down to Virginia and Elkridge-Harford. I was riding my own horse. He was the trainer, if you could call it that."

How much did enrolling at Goucher have to do with horses?

"I chose Goucher because I knew it was in horse country. I was able to bring a horse and kept it with Catherine Bosley. I just rode there. My other horse, who was still in Pittsburgh, they shipped down to the Casanova Point-to-Point. He wasn't fit enough to run in the ladies timber, so we ran in the flat race against Mike Smithwick's nice horses who were running to get fit, and I won the race. Mikey was watching with Bliss Flaccus, one of his owners, and Mikey said to Bliss, 'I want that girl to work for me.' Bliss Flaccus made the connections for us, and I went to work for Mikey."

That Casanova win, with Tuff Enuff, came in 1965. As the song lyric goes, she took a year off from college and never went back.

Rall worked in Smithwick's powerful stable, rode races and in 1969 she became the first woman jockey to win a race on the National Steeplechase Association circuit when Father's Footsteps won a 1-mile flat race at New Jersey's Far Hills Races. She later worked with Turney McKnight, helping develop such standouts as two-time Maryland Hunt Cup winner Tong among others.

Is this your most successful year?

"Maybe the number of wins, maybe this year is the best. It is the most exciting because we had a stakes win with a 3-year-old. I don't know. Epic Idea winning the Maryland Million was pretty exciting."

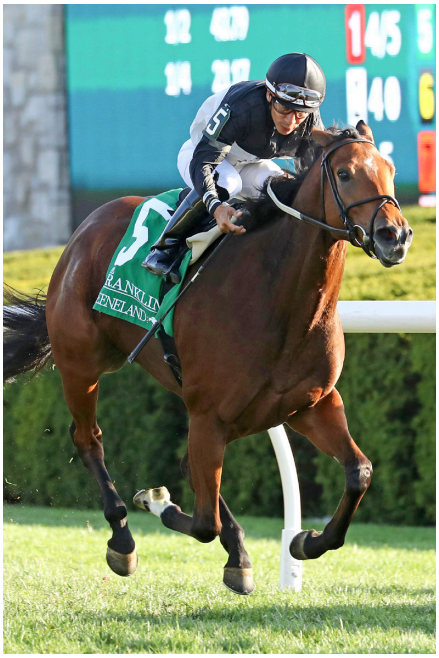
Maryland-bred Stakes Winners

Future Is Now sets stakes record in Grade 2 Franklin

Now that's a campaign. Future Is Now capped her 2024 season by setting a stakes record in the Franklin Stakes-G2 at Keeneland Oct. 13.

Carrying top weight of 125 pounds against a field of graded stakes-winning turf sprinters, Future Is Now hugged the rail, found room in the stretch and held off odds-on favorite Star of Mystery (GB) to win by three-quarters of a length. Larry Johnson's homebred completed 5½ furlongs in 1:01.47, breaking the stakes record 1:01.72 set by Chris's Thunder in 2000.

"The filly was so great today," said jockey Paco Lopez. "She was very comfortable during the race. She was perfect. After a little breather, I asked her and she passed between the horses, no problem at all, and she gave me a big kick."



Jetta Vaughns / Coady Media

Four of Future Is Now's seven lifetime victories from 14 starts have come since Lopez took over the reins in Pimlico's The Very One Stakes in May. She won that and made her next three starts at Saratoga – wins in the Intercontinental-G2 (June 7) and Smart And Fancy (Aug. 23) bracketed around a third in the Caress-G3 (July 25).

The daughter of Great Notion started 2024 at Gulfstream Park in January, won there in February, and finished 2024 with five wins, a second and a third in nine starts for earnings of $513,155. Trained by Mike Trombetta, she pushed her lifetime totals to 14-7-1-1 and $601,160 and was due for a vacation.

"We're going to give her a little breather," Trombetta said. "The plan for me is to get her ready for the Giant's Causeway-G3 in the spring at Keeneland. She's been in training since last winter at Gulfstream, so we're going to take some time and just let her regroup a little bit and we'll start to prepare her for that over the winter."

Future Is Now is out of the Bernardini mare Past as Prelude, the dam of five starters, three winners, all stakes performers. The others are Maryland-bred 3-year-old Call Another Play (Audible), winner of the Weber City Miss in April, third in the Black-Eyed Susan-G3 in May, and second in the Searching at Laurel in August, and stakes-placed Continentalcongres, a 5-year-old Virginia-bred daughter of Constitution with earnings of $313,800.

Past as Prelude is a half-sister to six winners, including stakes winner and sire Street Magician. The family includes this year's Belmont Stakes-G1 and Haskell-G1 runner-up Mindframe.

Studlydoright leads Maryland-bred cast in Nashua

Studlydoright charged to his second stakes victory by overtaking pacesetter and fellow Maryland-bred Tony Eclipse in the final furlong and scoring by a half-length in the $150,000 Nashua, a one-turn mile for juveniles Nov. 2 at Aqueduct.

Trained by John "Jerry" Robb for Maryland owners Dave and Lori Hughes, Studlydoright – wearing blinkers for the first time in six starts – broke well under Xavier Perez and tracked Tony Eclipse, who led the five-horse field through fractions of :22.95, :46.41 and 1:11.28 over the fast main track.

Tony Eclipse maintained the lead out of the turn, but Studlydoright reeled in the leader, taking command in the last 70 yards and fending off Vekoma Rides, who nosed out Tony Eclipse for second. Studlydoright completed the distance in 1:37.23. The third Maryland-bred in the field, previously undefeated 4-5 favorite It's Hammertime, finished fourth.

"He is a big horse that takes awhile to get going," said Perez, aboard Studlydoright in every start. "But when he switched leads in the stretch and I got to working, he gave me everything he had and we got the job done."

Studlydoright improved his earnings to $264,680 with his third win. He became the first Maryland-bred juvenile stakes winner of 2024 in the $150,000 Tremont in June at Saratoga after a winning debut at Laurel in May. He was second in the Grade 3 Sanford Stakes at the Spa in July and, following an off-the-board finish in the Grade 1 Hopeful at Saratoga in September, ran second in the off-the-turf Laurel Futurity Sept. 28.

"He's been sprinting all year, and he usually comes from behind," Robb said. "I was very happy where he was sitting. I think the farther the better for him. When he's sprinting, he has that one move with everybody backing up to him but in these races, he's going to be close all the time, so the longer, the better."

The son of juvenile champion and Kentucky Derby-G1 winner Nyquist was bred by Jim Dresher's Glenangus Farm. The chestnut colt is the second foal, and first winner, out of homebred stakes winner Peach of a Gal.

Winner of Delaware Park's Christiana Stakes and third in the Grade 3 Suwannee River Stakes at Gulfstream Park, Peach of a Gal is a sibling to eight winners, including four-time stakes winner Concealed Identity (Smarty Jones), 2024 Find Stakes winner Riccio, stakes-placed Cu Rahy, and Rich Love, the dam of multiple graded stakes winner Ruby Nell (Bolt d'Oro). She has a yearling filly by Ghostzapper, delivered a colt by Omaha Beach in April and was bred back to Bolt d'Oro.

Hughes purchased Studlydoright for $110,000 from the Becky Davis consignment at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic fall yearling sale. The colt was previously a $185,000 RNA at Fasig-Tipton's Saratoga selected yearling sale.

Sacred Thunder wins Lewis to avenge MD Million defeat

The top three finishers in the Maryland Million Nursery – Do It for Michael, Re Markably and Sacred Thunder – met for a rematch in the $100,000 James F. Lewis III Stakes, for 2-year-olds Nov. 9 at Laurel Park. Sacred Thunder recorded his first stakes victory by a length over Re Markably, as Do It for Michael faded to fourth.

Sacred Thunder settled off the pace set by Do It for Michael, who led through fractions of :23.22 and :46.09. With Jevian Toledo up, Sacred Thunder grabbed the lead in the stretch and held off Re Markably. The final time of 1:10.45 for 6 furlongs was a shade quicker than the Nursery (1:10.57).

Sacred Thunder is the latest stakes winner for the Broken Vow mare Elusory, owned by Grace and Louis Merryman's Anchor and Hope Farm. A son of Anchor and Hope's Holy Boss, Sacred Thunder is a half-brother to Tappin Cat (by the late Maryland sire Tritap), an earner of $532,389 who captured Delaware Park's Sussex Stakes and DTHA Governor's Day Handicap. Elusory's Mineshaft son Exculpatory won the 2021 Robert Hilton Memorial at Charles Town and has earned $252,822.

The mare's 2023 Long River filly sold to Gary Capuano for $22,000 this fall at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic yearling sale. She had a Great Notion filly this year.

Capuano trained Tappin Cat as well as Sacred Thunder, a $40,000 purchase at the 2023 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic yearling sale. Never off the board in seven outings for John Hazard, Sacred Thunder made his first five starts at Delaware Park, breaking his maiden Sept. 7 and following with a starter victory Sept. 28.

With a record of 7-3-3-1, Sacred Thunder has earned $147,360. The victory edged Holy Boss to the top of Maryland's juvenile sires list this year. His progeny earnings of $438,551 (through Nov. 19) are approximately $6,000 more than Mosler. ❧

Great Notion on record pace while getting first millionaire

Jeff Runco's West Virginia-bred Coastal Mission became the first millionaire for Northview Stallion Station's Great Notion with a win in the $250,000 Forty Niner Stakes-G3 Oct. 26 at Aqueduct.

Needing just shy of $50,000 to surpass seven figures, Coastal Mission put in a sustained rally in the 1-mile race and pulled away to win by a length, earning $137,500 to push his lifetime total to $1,091,653.

It was the 14th win, six in stakes, from 25 starts for the Runco-bred (under the Coleswood Farm banner), -trained and -owned 5-year-old gray gelding and his first in graded company. This year he has never finished worse than fourth in eight starts, all stakes, five graded, while racing at Aqueduct, Laurel, Pimlico, Monmouth, Charles Town and Parx.

His other 2024 wins include the Frank Whiteley at Laurel in April and the Parx Dirt Mile in his previous start in September.

Coastal Mission, a full-brother to 2019 Maryland-bred champion sprinter Lewisfield, out of the Crowd Pleaser mare Smart Crowd, is one of six black-type winners for 24-year-old Great Notion this year.

Others include graded winner Future Is Now and Maryland Million Classic winner Brilliant Ice. Among the sire's 2024 stakes-placed runners are Grade 1-placed Twisted Ride.

Great Notion's progeny earnings through Nov. 18 were $5,675,148, outpacing his 2023 season in which he became the first Maryland sire since Not For Love in 2009 to crack $5 million in a single year. His runners earned a total of $5,997,569 last year.

Great Notion has been named Maryland's Stallion of the Year eight consecutive years since 2016.

How a New Jersey-bred won a Maryland Million race

By Bill Finley

It's not a misprint. New Jersey-bred Starstuck Notion won a race in the Maryland Million Oct. 12, the Maryland Million Turf Stakes. Trainer Pat McBurney and owner-breeder Ken Garcia took advantage of a loophole becoming more prevalent as races for state breds are more and more for horses by sires standing in that particular state than for horses foaled in the state.

That's how Starstruck Notion qualified for the race. He is a 4-year-old by the Maryland-based sire Great Notion, who stands at the Northview Stallion Station. He was foaled in Cream Ridge, N.J.

"I've hit the jackpot," Garcia said. "I'm not rich, but I try to make smart decisions."

On the same card, Pennsylvania-bred Foxy Junior won the Maryland Distaff Sprint.

Races restricted to horses by New Jersey sires wouldn't work as the breeding program in the state remains a work in progress, and there are not many stallions in the state. But states like Maryland and Pennsylvania are writing more and more races where horses sired in that state are given preference over horses foaled in the state. It's a loophole that a smart breeder and owner of a New Jersey-bred can take advantage of if they have the right horse.

Starstruck Notion finished second in the 2023 Maryland Million Turf in what was, at the time, the best race of his career. He only raced against New Jersey-breds once this year. McBurney is convinced that the horse is far better on the turf than the dirt, and there are not many Jersey-bred races carded for the turf.

His 3-year-old campaign concluded with the Maryland Million, and he didn't return to the races until April 26 at Tampa Bay Downs. He would win two races prior to the Laurel victory, both open allowance races at Monmouth.

Maryland Million was far from an easy spot as Starstruck Notion had to take on some tough Maryland grass horses, including race favorite Sky's Not Falling, who was coming in off a blowout win in a handicap race at Colonial Downs. Seventy yards from the wire it looked like Starstruck Notion had no chance as he was third and was not making up much ground. But he kicked into high gear in deep stretch under Forest Boyce to win by a nose over Sky's Not Falling.

"In mid-stretch, I was hoping he'd hang on for second. A horse was gaining behind us and we weren't making headway into the leader," McBurney said. "The jockey said she just kept on digging. Maybe that other horse stopped a little, but it looked like our horse was reaching for ground pretty good to the finish line."

Starstruck Notion broke his maiden in his second start as 2-year-old, but then went to the sidelines and didn't race for seven months. It was during that time that he was gelded, which Garcia believes is why he came back at 3 as an improved horse.

"He had a slight bone problem in his front legs because he's such a big horse and has a lot of power in back," Garcia said. "The vets said the best thing for him would be to geld him. They said it would take four to six months for him to get healthy. Once he got healthy, he was as happy as you could imagine. I didn't want to cut him, but it might have been what kept him alive. I'm worried this horse might outlive me. I'll be 65 next month. I don't want my horses ever to be put in a bad situation, or be with people who don't know what they are doing."

This is one of those stories that shows that a good horse can come from anywhere. Starstruck Notion's dam is Star On Broadway and her dam is L. Fontanne. L. Fontanne, who never raced, was owned by an individual who was dying of cancer, and he gave the filly to Garcia because he trusted he would take good care of her. Her first foal was Star On Broadway. She was a mid-level claimer who won one of 13 starts.

They bred Star On Broadway to Latent Heat in 2013, and the result was Star Flare, who earned $86,317. It was neither a great start nor a terrible start to her career as a broodmare, but Garcia was in no hurry to breed her back. They didn't breed her again for six straight years until she was mated with Maryland sire Great Notion.

McBurney believes that Starstruck Notion is still improving. He will start him off at Tampa Bay Downs next spring to prepare him for the 2025 meet. He said he wouldn't be afraid to run against older company. If he wins in New Jersey against open company, there will be a 40% bonus.

He'll likely start in the Irish War Cry Stakes, a race on the grass for New Jersey-breds, and after that, he can try open races like the Red Bank Stakes. There's always the chance he'll be back at Laurel next fall, trying to win the Maryland Million Turf again.

Please list the horses you have BRED or OWN that are in training or racing. The Association will put them into our stable on Daily Racing Form. We will keep up with them through this medium and have news for the association and for the Mid-Atlantic. We will only use horses that finish in the money.

This will let us know what our members are doing on the racing front and inform everyone about your successes.

I will still have to trust you to keep us informed regarding the breeding. I love receiving news on how the horses are doing, who you are breeding to, and how you did at the sales. It is hard to find the time to sit down and send me this information, BUT PLEASE TRY.

Please take the time to fill this out for your racing stock. Please list all horses, even the ones I already have, so I can keep our stable updated. Use another page if you need more room.

Runnymede Farm Raises to Race for the Advantage

By Nikki Sherman

The late afternoon sun spread golden light across the pristine rolling hills of Runnymede Farm in Coatesville, Pa. Gathering at the "Training Barn" were owners Greg and his wife Caroline Bentley, as well as Farm Manager Joe Cassidy. Breeding Manager Jim Bergen would join the group later in a light and airy broodmare barn at the precipice of one of the hills.

The barn was fairly empty, save for stakes-placed Loose Ends, who had recently returned home for the winter. The 5-year-old son of Divining Rod was still in racing shape and stood proudly on the side of a lush slope after Cassidy requested that he be led out for photographs.

"We think he has the ability to make the transition into steeplechasing well," Cassidy noted, before adding, "He's the first one back home but the others are coming soon. We like to bring them home, and the great thing is that they can stay in shape. When they go back to the racetrack, they're pretty much ready for four-furlong breezes and our trainers love that."

Runnymede Farm is not just a breeding facility; it also houses a fully-accredited 6-furlong Tapeta training track, an outdoor swimming pond and a Hitchcock pen.

Not only does the home team use the facilities, but some of the top horsemen from a variety of disciplines schedule usage, including the United States Equestrian Team, Eventing Team, and steeplechase trainers. Cassidy said that they mixed the length and width of swimming docks from two of the nation's top eventers to create their own "Best of the Best" pond. Every single horse on the grounds of Runnymede Farm has swum in the pond.

Cassidy said that their team believes that this is crucial to the development of their horses. "It teaches them that 'No' is not an answer. We've found that it helps them in so many ways, the most obvious of which is in the starting gate. We also send every horse through our Hitchcock pen. It's great because all the people on the farm line up to watch on those days!"

A Hitchcock pen is a circular wooden chute that includes hedge-shaped jumps. The horses are then "free lunged" around the course. Cassidy admitted that not every horse has shown ability at jumping (or swimming), but that they still learn an immense willingness to try.

Runnymede Farm was purchased by the Bentleys from Diane Wister, whose brother is George Strawbridge Jr., a member of the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame's Board of Trustees. Strawbridge races under Augustin Stables and his Derry Meeting Farm–birthplace of Storm Cat–is adjacent to the 440 acres that encompass the Bentley's portion of Runnymede Farm. The original Runnymede Farm was over 2,500 acres. Those two properties, as well as several others, include 1,700 acres of neighboring green space for Pennsylvania's Chester County.

Greg and his four brothers founded an infrastructure engineering software provider called Bentley Systems in 1984. In the 40 years since its inception, the company has become internationally successful, yet continues to hold its headquarters right in Exton, Pa. That success has allowed Greg and Caroline to pursue their love for horses and horse racing. Since there is a well-known Runnymede Farm in Kentucky, the Bentleys decided to race most of their horses under the moniker Runnymoore Racing, LLC.

Over the years, the couple has been blessed with several nationally-recognized racehorses. The three most well known now share a pensioners' paddock at Runnymede Farm. The Bentleys acquired Postulation, who gave them a thrilling victory in the $250,000 American St. Leger-G3 at Arlington Park in 2017. Alwaysmining gave them the thrill of competing in a Triple Crown race after he earned a spot in the 2019 Preakness Stakes following six straight victories, including an eye-opening 11½-length score in the local prep, the $125,000 Federico Tesio Stakes. While Alwaysmining was unsuccessful in the Preakness, he ultimately earned $618,549, including three more wins, of which two were stakes. And perhaps their most exciting win was with Hardest Core, who captured the 2014 Arlington Million-G1 over some of the best turf horses of his generation, including the prior year's Breeders' Cup Turf winner Magician (Ire), defending champion Real Solution, 2013 Canadian Horse of the Year Up With the Birds, and multimillionaire Side Glance (GB).

"After Hardest Core, we thought it was easy," Caroline laughed.

When Hardest Core was sent to the farm between racing seasons, he "babysat" a young filly named Giant Shadow. The daughter of Giant's Causeway had captured three races in a row, including a maiden special weight and allowance at Parx Racing, before a dull stakes debut necessitated a break for the winter. Coming full circle, Giant Shadow is now the dam of Loose Ends. And what was also so special about Loose Ends' stakes-placing in the 2022 Crowd Pleaser Stakes? Well, the winner was also their own homebred, Undercover Kitty. They were officially in the breeding game.

"We came to realize that, even with everyone meaning well, you're never going to know as much about a horse you're buying as the seller does," Greg noted. "But if you breed and raise the horse then you have the advantage. It made sense that breeding to race is really our intended final state here."

Caroline added, "We bought fillies with an eye for breeding but we were very new at it

A few words from the Executive Secretary

Congratulations to the Blackstone-bred Roses for Debra who sold for $2.4 million at the Keeneland November sale, the highest price of the sale. PA-Bred Foxy Junior, a homebred for Dianne Stern, ran her record to six wins in seven starts this year by winning her third straight stakes race in the Thirty Eight Go Go Stakes at Laurel. The Boy's Warrior, bred by Warrior's Reward LLC, made it two stakes in a row by winning the Mark McDermott at Presque Isle Downs. The 2-year-old is a perfect 3-for-3 with earnings of $142,200, breeder awards of $56,880 and $14,220 in stallion awards. That's a total of $213,300. Wow!

The next races in the PA-Sired PA-Bred Stallion Series are scheduled for Dec. 30 at PARX. The second leg in the series will carry $100,000 in purses for 2yos and 2yo fillies and a $50,000 breeder bonus for horses that finish first, second and third in total points for the series: $25,000 for first, $15,000 for second and $10,000 for third. This bonus will be paid after the 3yo races in 2025.

Our newest stallion addition to Pennsylvania is the Tapit-sired Tyson. The Canadian champion older male of 2023 is out of the winning Smart Strike mare Honouring, putting him in a deep family that includes champions Rags to Riches and Arcangelo, also Belmont Stakes winner Jazil. He will be standing at Darryl and Jill Myers' Stone Jug Ranch.

Domicile forms are mandatory and should be filled out by December 1st or when you mare comes into the state if breeding back to a PA stallion or within 14 days of a public sale.

If you are still using paper registrations, please make sure you forward a signed copy of the Code of Ethics, which is attached to the registration form. We will be transitioning to paperless the beginning of 2025. As usual, please contact our office with any questions you may have.

Wishing you a fantastic finish to 2024, and remember, PA is the only place to Breed and Race! Over $30 million paid out in 2023 to PA-Bred owners and breeders in Breeder Awards, Owner Bonuses and Restricted Races. Go PA!! so we weren't sure what our goals really were, other than to race a horse that we really bred."

A major addition to their team was Bergen, who came with an impressive resume. Bergen had experience in every facet of the Thoroughbred industry: from working for three Hall of Fame trainers, to managing a training center outside Toronto where he also advised some of the top breeding farms in Canada, and assisting trainer Jonathan Sheppard for 17 years. Bergen was even recruited for several years to work at Cambridge Stud in New Zealand based on his strong knowledge of American pedigrees.

When Bergen came to Runnymede Farm, he joined forces with Calvin Smith, who had done all of the foaling since 1980 for Derry Meeting Farm. Bergen said, "We worked so well together. I used to say that Calvin had his hands on more Grade 1 legs than any trainer in the neighborhood. He was there when Storm Cat was foaled and was learning how to foal when Danzig was foaled. He was a mammoth of a man but gentle as a lamb, yet strong as a bull."

Sadly, Smith passed away in June 2023. He left a huge hole in the hearts and operation of Runnymede Farm and this year's foaling season was a difficult one for the employees. Bergen credits their close location to New Bolton Center, as well as one of the hospital's interns who had a strong interest in foaling, as the way the farm was able to successfully process the season.

Meanwhile on the racetrack, Runnymoore Racing was taking flight, with multiple homebred Pennsylvania stakes winners including Stern Chaser, Late Frost, Trevesso, and the exciting juvenile filly Caprice (by Golden Lad).

Since purchasing Runnymede Farm, the Bentleys have strived for success in local programs. With the advent of the PA-Bred, PA-Sired program, their team is even more focused on supporting Pennsylvania breeding. Bergen noted that they have a weanling half-brother to Caprice by now-pensioned Pennsylvania sire Warrior's Reward.

The Runnymede team is excited moving into the future. Their new mares include stakes-winning PA-Bred Cinnabunny (in foal to Munnings), multiple stakes-placed homebred In a Spin (by Hard Spun), PA-Bred stakes winner Tappin Josie, and a daughter of Triple Crown winner Justify.

"We would like to take full advantage and be participating in all of the Pennsylvania races and where we're not, we want to fill in the gaps," Greg said. "We want to show what kind of agricultural operation you can have when you have good people with good experience."

OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER DECEMBER 2024

Racing Across the Nation

Seven times graduates of South Carolina training centers headed to the winner's circle after crossing the finish line first in stakes races between Sept. 21 and Oct. 21. The Boy's Warrior was the first and last to do so during that time span.

A graduate of Randy and Kala Rentz' breaking program in Erhardt, S.C., The Boy's Warrior pushed the leader in the Whistle Pig Stakes at Parx Racing Sept. 21. This 2-year-old gelding took the lead with a quarter mile to go and quickly drew off to a 9-length victory. In the Mark McDermott Stakes at Presque Isle Downs Oct. 21, The Boy's Warrior immediately went to the front and led the field to the wire, crossing the finish line in front by 4 lengths. The Boy's Warrior has won all three of his career starts and has already earned $142,200.

On Sept. 28, Toupie broke on top and never looked back in the Unzip Me Stakes at Santa Anita. The 3-year-old repelled challengers in the stretch and finished 1½ lengths in front. Toupie learned her early lessons at the Travis Durr Training Center in St. Matthews, S.C. During her nine race career, Toupie has started at eight different racetracks. She has won three stakes and has earned $302,775. She won her career debut and also has two seconds and a third place finish.

On the same day, another former Travis Durr student, Three Technique, won the Ack Ack Stakes-G3 at Churchill Downs. Three Technique trailed the field before putting in his rally, taking the lead inside the eighth-pole and pulling ahead by 1½ lengths. During his 39 start-career, Three Technique also won the John A. Nerud Stakes-G2 at Belmont Park in June of last year. He has recorded seven wins, six seconds and eight third-place finishes while accumulating $1,177,237 in earnings.

Little J P recorded his third stakes win in his last five starts by proving best in the B Cup Sprint Stakes at Lethbridge Rmtc Sept. 29. Little J P dueled with another early on before taking command in the stretch and proving to be 3 lengths the best. He was developed for his racing career by Randy and Kala Rentz.

Travis Durr's crew watched two more former students win stakes on Oct. 12 and Oct. 19. First out was Secret Money, who stalked the leaders while racing three wide and, in a hard-fought stretch duel, proved she would not be denied, winning by a head in the Floral Park Stakes at Aqueduct. Secret Money's last 12 starts were all in stakes. Along with her latest win, she finished first in the Music City Stakes-G3 at Kentucky Downs in September 2023.

On Oct. 19, Concealed Carry outbroke the field quickly, taking a 2-length advantage in the M. P. Ballezzi Appreciation Mile Stakes at Parx Racing. Inside the eighth pole, she was challenged but would not give in and won by a neck. A winner in her career debut at Woodbine in 2021, Concealed Carry now has five victories.

An Unforgettable Experience

In August, Aron Wellman called the Aiken office and announced to the staff that I would be representing Eclipse Thoroughbred Partners as a finalist in the Managerial Award category for the Thoroughbred Industry Employee Awards. I was familiar with the TIEA because Kelsey Marshall Hughes, Vice President of Partner Relations, was the top honoree for the Katherine McKee Administrative Award in 2022.

Jeff Haas, a member of the Aiken staff, and I provided material for a video giving a brief outline of who I am and what I do. Aron Wellman, who nominated me, also commented on my role with Eclipse and my history in the Thoroughbred industry. This video was shown at the Awards ceremony held in the sales pavilion at Keeneland Oct. 15.

My wife Susan and I drove to Lexington on Monday, Oct. 14. Katie LaMonica and Nicole Cohen, members of the Godolphin team, put together an action-packed Tuesday and Wednesday. On Tuesday morning, I had an interview with Tom Law, Chairman of the selection committee, and the committee members at the Keene Place on the Keeneland grounds. I answered questions and gave them an idea of what my 50 years in the Thoroughbred industry has meant to me.

Tuesday afternoon we went on a tour of the Godolphin Stables at Jonabell Farm followed by the TIEA Awards Banquet Tuesday evening. Wednesday morning, we met Rachel Alexandra at Stonestreet Farm followed by a tour of Three Chimneys Farm. We all spent an afternoon at the races at Keeneland following the tours.

At the ceremony, 21 finalists were recognized with videos and two runner-ups were introduced. While seven people were top honorees, all were winners. There were no losers. This was an unforgettable evening in that at the banquet there was an all-star cast of people there that I have made friends with over the years.

. . . Congratulations to the connections of Incinerator, who has won his last three races. Incinerator went through the breaking process in Aiken under the care of Brad Stauffer and Ron Stevens. Originally owned and trained by Mark Grier and Arnaud Delacour, he is now owned and trained by Shake and Bake Racing and Kieron Magee. Incinerator won at Colonial Downs in July and August and at Laurel Park in October.

. . . Congratulations to the Kingsley family, who race under the name of the Atsamy Racing Club. Dubai And Back (Ire), a winner at Delaware Park Oct. 3, is owned by SCTOBA members Arch and Wendy Kingsley. Dubai And Back is trained by Arch and was ridden to victory by their daughter, Taylor. The Kingsley family lives in Camden.

VIRGINIA

In what is likely a first-time occurrence, two former Virginia Derby winners — 2023's Integration and 2024's Deterministic — both won graded stakes races on the same card at Aqueduct November 9. Integration was best in the $300,000 Red Smith Stakes (G2) while Deterministic captured the Grade 3, $200,000 Hill Prince Stakes. The former, a 4-year-old Quality Road colt, is conditioned by "Shug" McGaughey and has amassed $1,141,800 in earnings while the latter, a 3-year-old Liam's Map colt, is a Christophe Clement trainee who has bankrolled $886,390. Integration won the 2023 Hill Prince, along with two other races at Colonial Downs — a maiden special weight in 2023 and the Million Preview this past summer.

Virginia's thoroughbred track now prepares for a new three-day spring meet in March 2025 (pending VRC approval), anchored by the Virginia Derby on Saturday, March 15. Both the 2025 Virginia Derby and Virginia Oaks have earned the distinction as a "win and you're in" qualifying race on the Road to the Kentucky Derby/Oaks. Virginia's Derby has traditionally been a turf race late in the summer season. Next spring, as part of a 50-point race on the Road to the Kentucky Derby, the Virginia Derby — and Oaks — will transition to the dirt track. The respective winning horse will be guaranteed a post position in the starting gate for the Kentucky Derby on May 3 and the Kentucky Oaks on May 2.

VIRGINIA THOROUGHBRED ASSOCIATION YEAR END REMINDERS

- If you purchase a mare at a public sale and it is sent to Virginia within 15 days of the purchase date (60 days if purchased outside of the U.S.), the mare can meet the Virginia bred residency requirement if she remains in the state at a participating facility through foaling. The sale must be a completed public sale or private transaction as a result of an RNA at the public sale.
- Register your 2024 Virginia-bred foals by December 31st to avoid fee increases.
- Stallion owners: If your stallion bred mares in Virginia during the 2024 breeding season and you haven't done so, do not forget to submit the stallion registration before the December 31st deadline.
- Do not forget to submit your certified applications and applicable fees within 30 days of the horse's arrival at a Virginia facility.

VIRGINIA-BRED REPO ROCKS CLOSES IN ON $1 MILLION IN EARNINGS

Double B's Racing Stables' Virginia-bred Repo Rocks continues his quest to become racing's next million dollar earning horse. The 6-year-old Tapiture gelding has bankrolled $978,046 as of press time courtesy of ten wins, nine runner-up finishes and seven thirds in 43 starts. After three starts at Colonial this summer that included a $87,500 allowance win, Repo Rocks took second in the $300,000 Parx Dirt Mile September 21 and fourth in the G3 Forty Niner Stakes October 26. The Jamie Ness trainee has two graded stakes wins in his portfolio — the G3 Westchester at Belmont and the G3 Toboggan at Aqueduct, both in 2023. Repo Rocks was bred by Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin III.

MOIRA BECOMES THIRD COLONIAL DOWNS STAKES WINNER TO CAPTURE A BREEDERS' CUP VICTORY

Madaket Stables, LLC, SF Racing LLC & X-Men Racing's Moira became the third Colonial Downs stakes winner since 2019 to win a Breeders' Cup Championship when the 5-year-old Ghostzapper mare captured the $1 million Filly & Mare Turf at Del Mar last month, joining Four Wheel Drive and Nobals as the other New Kent stakes winning alum to do so. The Kevin Attard trainee won the G2 $500,000 Beverly D on Colonial's "Festival of Racing" card in August. Moira's career earnings stand at $2,996,017. Four Wheel Drive won the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf Sprint in 2019 after prevailing in the Rosie's Stakes earlier that year while Nobals won the Breeder's Cup Turf Sprint in 2023 after previously scoring in the Da Hoss Stakes.

VIRGINIA-BRED DETERMINED KINGDOM REACHES WINNERS CIRCLE IN KEENELAND ALLOWANCE

Virginia-bred Determined Kingdom continued a successful 2024 campaign — and career — with a nice allowance win at Keeneland October 25, crossing 2 1/2 lengths the best after 5 1/2 furlongs. The allowance featured a wide open field of ten and Determined Kingdom was sent off as the 3-1 betting choice. The Phil Schoenthal trainee has four wins this year alone — all at 5 1/2 turf furlongs — and $285,900 in earnings. The 5-year-old Animal Kingdom gelding previously won the Punch Line Stakes and Meadow Stable Handicap at Colonial in addition to a Laurel allowance earlier this year. The talented turf competitor has ten lifetime victories including Punch Line wins in 2022 & 2023 and a Jamestown Stakes win in 2021, all at Colonial. Bred by Audley Farm Equine in Berryville, Determined Kingdom heads into December with $734,177 in earnings.

Virginia-bred Repo Rocks wins a $87,500 dirt allowance at Colonial Downs (Coady Media).

Moira (outside) wins the G2 Beverly D at Colonial Downs in August (Coady Media).

HHR GAMING RESORT OPENS IN NORTHERN VIRGINIA; WILL CREATE 16 MORE RACING DAYS IN 2025

The Rose Gaming Resort in the Northern Virginia town of Dumfries celebrated its grand opening November 7 with a ribbon-cutting ceremony that attracted hundreds of people to the 175,000 square foot facility, owned by Churchill Downs. The resort, which sits on a 62-acre property right off I-95, joins seven other Rosie's Gaming Emporiums already in operation throughout Virginia. The property features 1,650 historical horse racing (HHR) terminals from 11 different manufacturers. The number of thoroughbred race dates at Colonial Downs is directly tied in with the total number of HHR machines in operation — one live race day per 100 terminals. In 2024, 27 race days were held at the New Kent track. In 2025, there will be 44 days pending Virginia Racing Commission approval on December 3. Colonial will host three of those days at a new spring meet March 13-15 and the remaining 41 will be held over a ten week summer stand.

The unique ribbon cutting was held in The Rose's newly built multi-story parking garage and was ushered in by a bugler playing "Call to Post". Among the keynote speakers was Churchill Downs CEO Bill Carstanjen who kicked off his speech with a comment about the ceremony location. "With so many things going on inside the resort, this is the only place to do a ribbon cutting. I've heard the 'Call to Post' many, many times in my life all over the country and all over the world, but this is the first time I've ever heard it in a parking garage."

Dumfries had been known as a town with a 230-foot high landfill that was obvious to anybody traveling up and down I-95. Located on The Rose's property, the landfill will be capped and turned into greenspace and a public park with playing fields. Turning a landfill into a landmark was the theme of the day, and the significant transformation it symbolizes for Dumfries. "Today's ribbon cutting is more than just an event; it's the beginning of a new era for our town," Mayor Derrick Wood said.

Churchill Downs invested $460 million into the project which also features a 102-room hotel, eight restaurants/bars, 2,500 parking spaces and event space. "This has not been an easy project and has faced its share of challenges," Carstanjen added, referencing the technical and construction obstacles posed by building on a reclaimed landfill. "But for us, the opportunity to convert this site into a new facility has been a labor of love." Though not from Virginia, Carstanjen attended Woodbridge High School located just north of Dumfries while growing up.

The resort is projected to generate $35.5 million in annual tax revenue and create economic opportunities for the state's $2 billion equine industry. Because The Rose is tied to horse racing, the facility has an offtrack betting room that is open from noon to midnight seven days a week with 28 simulcast TV screens and a capacity of 170.

West Virginia Breeders Classics XXXVIII

By Jeff Gilleas

In the fading light of day it seemed a suitable time to address my battered keyboard and salute several outstanding performances.

The West Virginia Breeders Classics is recognized for being the avant-garde crusader at Charles Town Races for cracking the monetary code, and the unwavering Fall objective for horsemen in the Mountain State. Literally, the entire race program is a testament to Sam Huff and Carol Holden, founders of the Classics, and their sponsors, who provide an essential platform to showcase West Virginia's racing and breeding industry.

Carol continues to serve as guardian of this indispensable event, which by all accounts is one of the most successful state-bred championship programs in the United States.

WEST VIRGINIA VINCENT MOSCARELLI MEMORIAL BREEDERS CLASSIC

Certain trainers could be described as winning specialists. In the case of Jeff Runco, it is his proper morning lessons that simulate race day conditions, and collection of upgraded pedigrees that inspire his profound success.

On form, Annapolis Road (Runco) and Im the Director (Cyndy McKee) are the unmistakable aristocracy of the 2-year-old male division. Fresh off their 1-2 placing in the Henry Mercer Memorial, the only change on WVBC night was a reversal of that order of finish.

Annapolis Road, a son of Outwork and Kentucky Road was trapped in a pocket early, eased outside of Im the Director on the run up the backstretch, and in the lane verified that talent trumps experience.

Breeder: Coleswood Farm Inc.

WEST VIRGINIA DASH FOR CASH BREEDERS CLASSIC (PRESENTED BY ROCKWOOL)

I have a soft spot in my heart for sprinters. Generally a deep category, featuring horses with a propensity towards durability, these fast-twitch fiber beasts can be stimulated to action in a flash.

Duncan Idaho, a member of the Fiber Sonde—Holy Pow Wow clan, sat directly off the heat of the race, and closed the gap on Pork Chop Pete in the final yards to secure his second lifetime black-type victory. A lukewarm favorite for owner David Raim and trainer Jeff Runco, Duncan Idaho bested his younger adversary, Pork Chop Pete, by a neck, identical to their meeting in the It's Only Money Stakes in June.

Breeder: John McKee

WEST VIRGINIA RUSSELL ROAD BREEDERS CLASSIC (PRESENTED BY WV DEPARTMENT OF TOURISM)

Catch the Humor, by Girvin out of Source of Humor, entered the Russell Road with only two career starts and no experience at the 7-furlong distance.

Limited exposure combined with morning line odds of 15-1 made him appear as if he was fostered in the witness protection program, but with a businesslike approach recorded one of the most lopsided success stories of the night.

Handled with utmost confidence by rider Reshawn Latchman, the Beau Ridge talent ranks as the latest weapon in Cyndy McKee's thriving arsenal.

Breeder: John McKee

WEST VIRGINIA LOTTERY BREEDERS CLASSIC

Though second to gifted stablemate Overnight Pow Wow, some rabid fans considered phenom Direct the Cat's latest effort a puzzling misfire. Combine that with her absence from competition since July, and the pressure on owner-trainer McKee was intense.

With veteran journeyman Latchman sitting like a statue in the irons, the daughter of Redirect—Cat Thats Grey set a frisky pace and humbled her shorthanded rivals.

Playing to her strength, Direct the Cat made every pole a winning one as she defied the night's partiality of high-and-wide closer.

Breeder: John McKee

WEST VIRGINIA TRIPLE CROWN NUTRITION BREEDERS CLASSIC

Due to scheduling anomalies this year, many 2-year-old fillies were forced to use 4½-furlong maiden races as stepping stones toward the 6½-furlong Triple Crown Nutrition. Attempting to reproduce a seasons worth of development in a matter of weeks made for an ambitious training and handicapping assignment.

Trainer Anthony Farrior is a man acknowledged for striking when the iron is hot. Being the only stakes winner in the field of nine, Diakonissa verified her subjective blueprint of a true scrapper for owner Ultra Championship Racing.

The daughter of Presevationist—Florid has registered back-to-back photo-finish stakes wins.

Breeder: Michael Furr

WEST VIRGINIA THOROUGHBRED BREEDERS ASSOCIATION ONION JUICE BREEDERS CLASSIC

This two-turn sprint is often viewed as the land of opportunity, filled with a collection of individuals who are resistant to the rigors of time, only one step subordinate to the chic Classic. No Change, a 6-year-old son of Fiber Sonde, is now a consecutive winner (2023-2024) of the Onion Juice, earning in excess of $540,000.

Owned and trained by Cyndy McKee, the Beau Ridge gelding proudly represents the B-team, while fully ingrained in the farm's homegrown West Virginia culture.

Runner-up Teachintherelease was claimed in June for $20,000 by Robert Cole Jr. and continues the hot-hand for high percentage trainer Stephen Murdock.

Breeder: John McKee

WEST VIRGINIA CAVADA BREEDERS CLASSIC

Cyndy McKee had the option of selling the 2021 filly by Fiber Sonde out of Holy Pow Wow, but desired to retain and race the upper-class refined beauty. From the sought after family of Late Night Pow Wow, Muad'dib and Duncan Idaho, Overnight Pow Wow has physically and mentally grown-up in front of us.

Skipping the restricted 3-year-old race, OPP was dead sent early, waltzed around the oval and determinedly bested a top class opponent in Hessica. The Cavada is the cherry on top for the Beau Ridge Farm lass who sports seven wins from 10 starts.

Breeder: John McKee

SAM HUFF WEST VIRGINIA BREEDERS CLASSIC

It's the goal of every trainer in the Breeders Classics to bring their charges up to the race in peak condition. Perennial powerhouse owner/trainer Jeff Runco, airing on the side of caution, opted to give his elite stakes runner Coastal Mission a few more weeks off from competition, thus bypassing the Sam Huff Classic.

His absence substantially diluted the quality of the race, however a gravy train event for Jubawithatwist did not materialize. Flag bearer for the Kristy Petty barn, the 3-year-old went off at odds of 1-9, but in an epic stretch confrontation was bested by nouveau king of the spoilers, Runaldo.

Another nifty club in the bag for Jeff Runco, Huntertown Farm's son of Creative Cause vaulted into contention once switched outside by journeyman Arnaldo Bocachica, to gift wrap another payday for the prolific trinity.

Breeder: Huntertown Farm

WEST VIRGINIA ROGER RAMEY BREEDERS CLASSIC DISTAFF

The element of drama in the Distaff is implicit in the fact that dress rehearsals at the 1⅛-mile distance for fillies and mares are rare to non-existent at Charles Town. This race appears to be more about recency than talent.

Tactically suited to the distance, Change the World was seeking her first win of the year for owner Coleswood Farm and trainer Jeff Runco. Jockey Bocachica, capping off a five-win evening, used an analogous trajectory with this daughter of Overanalyze by applying his winning strategy of settle, save and swing out late.

Breeder: Coleswood Farm Inc.

BLUE AND GOLD STAKES

No affiliation to the Breeders Classics, the Blue and Gold Stakes was added by track management and the CTHBPA, and sculptured after the Dash for Cash. In a grouping awash with crack West Virginia-bred female sprinters, we'll coin this race as the Distaff Dash.

Tim and Judy Grams Maggie's Girl, a daughter of Uncle Lino—Maginot Line commanded the bulk of the wagering action, was at jockey Larry Reynolds bidding throughout and handily closed out the near-record setting nightcap card.

To finish is to win, but to the victor goes the spoils

In horse racing, there's no such thing as a participation prize – either you're first. Or you're not.

By Betsy Burke Parker

Admit it, we're as attracted to shiny things as magpies and chipmunks.

A trophy – silver, pewter, gold, bronze, even a prized logo Yeti cup – is a tangible, durable reminder of a particular achievement and serves as evidence of merit.

Trophies are awarded in sports for everything from youth to professional level athletics.

The word trophy derives from the Greek tropaion. It originally referred to "winning" standards or other loots of war victory including human captives and body parts such as a scalp or the head of an enemy captured in battle.

Thankfully, in this way anyway, we've evolved.

The oldest sports trophies in the world are the Carlisle Bells, for a race still run at the Carlisle racecourse in Cumbria, England. It dates to 1559 and was first awarded by Elizabeth I.

Trophies, and sometimes purse money, were handed out, and prized, when racing in the American colony was first recorded in 1665 on New York's Long Island plain. The first important race in the Virginia colony was in 1752 in the Tidewater region near Gloucester.

According to the National Steeplechase Museum, the first steeplechase race in the U.S. was held near Washington D.C. in 1834. The National Steeplechase and Hunt Association in Fair Hill, Maryland was founded in 1895, a year after the first running of the Maryland Hunt Cup. The Hunt Cup is considered America's oldest steeplechase.

Take a look at the history – some old, some new, of some of the trophies on the circuit.

National Steeplechase Association bronze

NSA year-end bronzes

Steeplechase horsewoman Meriwether Morris contracted with artist and sculptor Peggy Kauffman to create the year-end title prizes for the National Steeplechase Association. Kauffman casts seven each year, in what she calls a simple casting in the old-world style of a horse jumping.

Kauffman is a professional portrait artist and animalier who works in bronze sculpture and pastel painting. Her anatomical knowledge and ability to render the unique essence of her subject is hallmark of her work, mostly what she calls representational impressionism.

Kauffman received a BA in Fine Arts from Bennett College in Millbrook, New York and studied at the Maryland Institute College of Art in Baltimore.

She considers Paul Brown, preeminent horse artist, the greatest influence on her work.

Gold rush: The intriguing history of Virginia Gold Cup trophies

Winning the Virginia Gold Cup timber classic is a cash grab – $75,000 to the victor in 2024, but possession of the golden trophy (for a year) is pretty priceless.

It used to take just three wins to take permanent ownership of the prize, but after several valuable trophies were retired, the Gold Cup committee raised the bar to five.

Eight gold cups (most of them, literally, golden cups) have been retired.

The first Virginia Gold Cup trophy was purchased in 1922 by the race founders for $1,000.

Retired by – Katherine Hitt (1922, 1923, 1925)

The trophy was given back to the Gold Cup as a perpetual trophy (meaning, it can never be retired but, instead, is used as a prop for win photos but never goes home with the winning owner.)

2nd - Trophy made in England in 1802. Purchased in 1926 by Robert Winmill and donated to the Gold Cup.

Retired by – Mary Pingree (1930, 1933, 1934)

3rd - Trophy purchased and donated by Mary Pingree.

Retired by – Mrs. Frank Gould (1937, 1938, 1940)

4th - Trophy crafted by a Moscow silversmith in 1795.

Retired by – Christopher Greer Jr. (1941, 1946, 1953)

5th - Trophy made of gold nuggets from the 1849 California gold rush. Found in a London pawn shop in the late 1940s, later purchased by the Gold Cup Association.

Retired by – Zeke Ferguson (1965, 1966, 1967)

6th - Trophy, gold-plated silver cup made in 1796 England.

Retired by – Dr. Joseph Rogers (1972, 1982, 1984)

7th - Trophy made in London in 1900 and was the prize for the 1903 English Grand National at Aintree.

Retired by – Ann Stern (1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998)

7th - Trophy was a simple six-sided golden vase.

Retired by – Irv Naylor (2002, 2007, 2009, 2016, 2017)

Current challenge trophy – A gold loving cup donated by Warrenton's Celeste Vella.

The International Gold Cup took a surprising path to end up at Great Meadow

The waist-high International Gold Cup trophy took a winding route to its present home in The Plains, Virginia.

The first time the ornate King of Spain cup was offered as a prize was a 1930 race at the old Grasslands Downs in Gallatin, Tennessee. The 'chase was run over a 4¼ mile course of natural brush hedges similar to England's Grand National at Aintree.

Spain's King Alfonso XIII, then one of the world's most gallant riders and sportsmen, placed the spectacularly beautiful pedestal bowl in competition for the 1930 event.

After the Tennessee meet folded in 1932, the trophy moved to the Rolling Rock course in Ligonier, Pennsylvania. The 1931 winner of the cup at Grasslands, General Richard King Mellon, had developed the Rolling Rock course, and so he just kept the trophy and designed a championship race for it when he heard of Grasslands' closure.

Mellon was a cousin of the late Upperville, Virginia philanthropist Paul Mellon.

The trophy shifted again when Rolling Rock shuttered in 1983, moving to the then-brand-new Great Meadow racecourse in The Plains, Virginia to anchor the very first meet held there on Oct. 20, 1984.

In keeping with the Great Meadow focus on championship timber racing, the International Gold Cup became a timber race.

Great Meadow had been built in 1983 as new home to the Virginia Gold Cup timber classic.

The Temple Gwathmey

The Temple Gwathmey Memorial hurdle handicap has bounced around the circuit. It was first run at Belmont Park in 1924, shifted to Aqueduct 1963-1967, back to Belmont, to the old Rolling Rock meet in Pennsylvania 1972-1975, then back to Belmont.

It moved to the Middleburg Spring Races in Virginia in 1989, brought by then-chairman the late Paul Fout and the late Tommy Beach.

"Paul Fout is the one who kept the flame alive," says Ned Grassi, a Middleburg Spring board member and great-grandson of Temple Gwathmey.

Alfred Hunt was longtime chair of the Rolling Rock association, race committee member Turner Reuter said in a Middleburg Life story. "He and Paul Fout were great friends, and that's how it was brought down here" to Virginia's Glenwood Park, Reuter said.

First run in 1924, the race was created as a memorial to Temple Gwathmey, Sr., but it took on special meaning eight years later when his son James Temple Gwathmey, Jr. died after a fall at the 1932 Monmouth Hunt Races.

When Gwathmey died after a long illness, friend and partner (in 'chaser" Mr. Cotton) E.M. Weld and other friends swiftly joined to fund a memorial steeplechase, the Temple Gwathmey handicap at Belmont Park. Weld commissioned a silver Tiffany trophy for the race; it's still awarded today.

Usually carded as a handicap, the Gwathmey has been run at distances from 2 1/8 miles to 3 miles, depending on the course and the conditions.

You couldn't make this stuff up: National Racing Museum trophy heist was headline news in 2013

(From an AP report on Sept. 13, 2013)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Five trophies were stolen from the National Museum of Racing and Hall of Fame, including the silver Tiffany prize awarded to the winner of the 1903 Belmont Stakes, police said Friday.

Saratoga Springs police Lt. John Catone said the smash-and-grab burglary occurred around 11:30 p.m. Thursday at the museum, located across the street from Saratoga Racecourse.

The thief set off an alarm that alerted police to the break-in, Catone said. The burglar spent less than three minutes inside but managed to make off with five trophies by smashing their glass display cases located in two separate galleries, he said.

The stolen memorabilia includes the Belmont Stakes Trophy won by Africander and the Brighton Cup Trophy, both from 1903. The others are the 1905 Saratoga Special Trophy won at Saratoga in 1905 by Mohawk II, and two steeplechase trophies: the 1914 Brook Cup Handicap Steeplechase Trophy won at Belmont by Compliment and the 1923 Grand National Steeplechase Trophy won at Aintree in England by Sergeant Murphy.

Museum officials said the Brook Cup, Saratoga Special and Brighton Cup trophies are made of gold, while the other three are silver, including the 248-ounce Grand National trophy. The 76-ounce Saratoga Special and 35-ounce Brighton Cup are 18-carat gold, the officials said, while the silver 1903 Belmont Trophy made by Tiffany features semiprecious stones.

"These trophies are irreplaceable," said Christopher Dragone, director of the museum and Hall of Fame. "We are saddened by this unfortunate event and hopeful that the investigation leads to the apprehension of the individual or individuals who committed this crime and the return of the trophies."

Museum spokesman Brien Bouyea said the value of the trophies hadn't been determined yet. The museum is home to a vast collection of trophies, jockey silks, equine art, artifacts and other thoroughbred racing memorabilia dating back centuries. The Hall of Fame's inductees include nearly 400 horses, jockeys and trainers.

The break-in comes nearly 10 months after 14 gold and silver trophies worth $300,000 were stolen from the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame. Police said the trophies stolen in December included the 18-karat Memphis Gold Challenge Cup won in 1902 by a mare named Lou Dillon, one of the sport's greatest trotters.

Eighttofasttocatch collects third MD Million Classic
December 2014
Russell Road rules in West Virginia • O'Sullivan Farms • 2015 Stallion Directory

10 years ago

■ Sylvia Heft's 8-year-old Eighttofasttocatch recorded a record third victory in the Maryland Million Classic. He was one of four winners for leading Maryland Million sire Not For Love on the card, with Classy Coco, D C Dancer and Golden Years.

■ Fair Hill-based Graham Motion-trained Main Sequence made it four Grade 1 wins in a row when he took the $3 million Breeders' Cup Turf at Santa Anita, and was touted as a sure thing for an Eclipse Award as well as possible Horse of the Year honors.

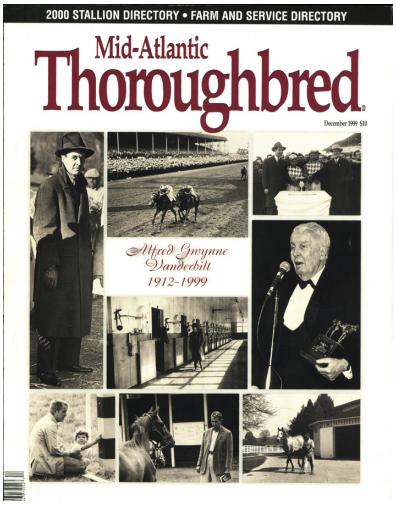
Main Sequence was named 2014 champion grass horse and champion older horse for his 4-for-4 season.

■ Princess of Sylmar, a Pennsylvania-bred multiple Grade 1 winner and earner of more than $2 million, headed to Japan after selling as a broodmare prospect for $3.1 million to Shadai Farm at the Fasig-Tipton November sale in Kentucky. Named after Ronnie and Betsy Houghton's Sylmar Farm in Christiana where she was foaled and raised, Princess of Sylmar raced for breeder Ed Stanco and trainer Todd Pletcher.

■ Rosie Napravnik won the Breeders' Cup Distaff-G1 aboard Unstoppable and announced her retirement from riding during the post-race interview in the winner's circle. Napravnik won her first race for trainer Dickie Small at Pimlico in June 2005. She closed her career with 1,878 wins and more than $71 million in purses. The reason for her retirement? She and husband Joe Sharp were expecting their first child.

■ Mark Russell's Russell Road (Wheaton—Roberta Grump) rallied to defeat Lucy's Bob Boy in the $500,000 West Virginia Breeders Classic. He also won the race in 2009 and 2011 and was second in 2012 and 2013. Winning for the 28th time in 53 starts, the 8-year-old boosted his career earnings to $1,903,234.

■ There was a shake-up on the Mid-Atlantic sires lists as three of the top five – Pin Oak Lane Farm's Offlee Wild and Any Given Saturday, and Northview's E Dubai – would stand elsewhere in 2015. Offlee Wild, sire of that year's Breeders' Cup Classic-G1 winner Bayern, was sold to Turkey; Any Given Saturday was purchased by Korean interests; and E Dubai was relocating to Louisiana. Northview PA's Jump Start moved to the top of the list.



25 years ago

■ Tributes poured in after the passing of American racing icon Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who died at his New York home following his regular morning visit to Belmont Park. He was 87.

Owner of Maryland's Sagamore Farm, a 21st birthday gift in 1933 from his mother which would be home to numerous champions, including fillies Bed o' Roses and Next Move, Vanderbilt was best known as the breeder/owner of Native Dancer.

At 25, Vanderbilt became president of Pimlico (and later president of Belmont Park). One of his most celebrated accomplishments was staging the 1938 match race between Seabiscuit and War Admiral in the Pimlico Special.

Snowden Carter reminisced: "His handling of the magnificent [575-acre Sagamore] property was impeccable. In addition to acquiring superb horses [such as the great racehorse and sire Discovery], Vanderbilt adopted a policy of round-the-clock maintenance which involved miles of gleaming white fences, sparkling shedrows, emblazoned with cerise and white diamonds, and a picturesque training track . . . In a sense it was Camelot. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's gift to Maryland."

■ Ann and Henry Stern's Saluter became the winningest timber campaigner of all time, with victories 20 and 21 for trainer/rider Jack Fisher in the $50,000 International Gold Cup and $25,000 Virginia Hunt Cup, surpassing 1970s record holder *Dosdi.

Racing over timber since he was 4 (in 1993), Saluter clinched his fourth timber championship.

■ John's Call – who survived career changes, disqualifications, court appearances, falls, old age, spots (he was covered in white spots), an identity crisis, and Breeders' Cup-caliber competition, per writer Sean Clancy – gave trainer Tom Voss his first graded stakes win on the flat in the Laurel Turf Cup-G3. It was the second stakes win in a row for the 8-year-old son of Lord At War (Arg).

Raced through age 10, John's Call added Grade 1 wins in the Sword Dancer and Turf Classic and was third in a photo in the 2000 Breeders' Cup Turf-G1 while earning more than $1.5 million. In retirement he became Voss' lead pony.

■ Augustus Bay, an 8-year-old gelding owned by 19-year-old college student Jane Clark, who leased him for $1 from her mother, Mrs. Stephen Clark, won the fifth Colonial Cup in Camden, S.C.

Trained by 21-year-old Eric "Rick" Watters, son of famed trainer Sidney Watters Jr., the gelding had four prior bowed tendons and a bone chip in his knee. Watters, licensed only three months, said, "His legs are so bad that he once or twice got permanently retired. But I suggested that we take him up to Dougie Small's farm in Coatesville, Pa., and swim him. That was the only way I could figure to keep weight off his legs."

Piloted by Tom Skiffington, who came in from Ireland for the ride, Augustus Bay won by 8 lengths over 10 rivals.

Augustus Bay came back the next year to win the American Grand National at Fair Hill and finish second in the Colonial Cup, the final race of his career. He was retired as a foxhunter and was ridden by Elkridge-Harford Hunt whipper-in Eilene Poole until he was 21, when he was retired to Sidney Watters' Dunmore in Monkton.

■ Alfred G. Vanderbilt reduced stud fees for all stallions standing at his Sagamore Farm in Glyndon, Md., by 20 percent. Vanderbilt said it was because "inflation is threatening the survival of the Thoroughbred breeding industry and that positive steps must be taken to reduce the financial load now being carried by breeders."

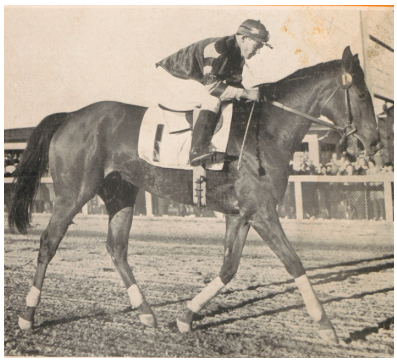
■ Horses belonging to the estate of Henry L. Straus sold at auction at the Timonium Fair Grounds. While the sale was held under adverse weather conditions, a crowd estimated at 1,500 attended. Bidding was brisk, and the prices were considered quite good. The auction was conducted by the Maryland Horse Breeders Association, with George Swinebroad as auctioneer and Humphrey S. Finney announcing.

The mixed sale saw 38 bring $103,000. Top price was $12,800 for a chestnut yearling filly, purchased by L.S. MacPhail.

Three Straus horses were not offered, instead retained by Mrs. Straus. They were Pilaster, winner of the Riggs, Pimlico Cup and Prince George Autumn Stakes that fall while leaseed to trainer Frank Bonsal; the producer Ladyinthemoon, and her stakes-winning daughter Nokomis.

■ The 1950 racing dates set by the Maryland Racing Commission were similar to recent years, with the major tracks accepting the proposed schedule, although threat of conflicts with New Jersey loomed, as dates for Garden State, Atlantic City and Monmouth had yet to be released. Of Maryland's mile tracks, Bowie and Havre de Grace were not expected to face competition from New Jersey.



Racing under lease to his trainer Frank A. Bonsal, Pilaster honored his late breeder Henry L. Straus with three stakes wins that fall.

Havre de Grace still proved a victim of the clash for dates, as 1950 turned out to be its final meet.

■ Five horses-in-training and five yearlings owned by the estate of Crispin Oglebay sold at Pimlico. The sale was "outstandingly successful," as the 10 realized $200,600, for an average of $20,060. A new high price for a yearling that year was recorded when Harry La Montagne spent $40,500 for a colt by *Blenheim II out of On the Level, by *Sickle, surpassing the previous mark of $37,000, paid by trainer Moody Jolley for a Menow—Risk colt at Keeneland.

■ Baltimore's nationally distributed Turf and Sport Digest magazine named Calumet Farm's Coaltown Horse of the Year in its 14th annual nationwide poll of sports and turf writers and commentators. "Of the 203 sports authorities who voted and were asked to name but one horse in this classification, 102 cast ballots for the dashing son of Bull Lea—Easy Lass." First in 12 of his 15 starts and second in the other three in 1949, he earned $276,125 for owner Warren Wright.

The Daily Racing Form's Horse of the Year, Capot, finished second in the Turf and Sport Digest poll with 71 votes.

■ Editor Humphrey S. Finney made the rounds, including a trip to New Jersey. His Editor's Saddle-bag note of October 15: To Philadelphia this morning, thence to Garden State to meet the Wallis Armstrongs and to watch that grand mare Bewitch beat Harry Isaacs' good filly Imacomin and a first class field in the Vineland Handicap. Had a visit with Gene Mori and Walter Donovan before heading for Moorestown for the night.

■ Breeders' Awards for 1949 were paid out by the state's four major and five minor tracks to 69 Maryland breeders of winners of open races. Total payments were $34,520. The leading earner was Mrs. R.H. Heighe of Prospect Hill Stud, in Bel Air, with $1,770.

Just Getting Started

Owner H. Turney McKnight and jockey Vivan Rall collected the hardware after Still in All won the ladies timber race at the Elkridge-Harford Point-to-Point in 1974. Fifty years later, Rall homebred Super Chunk won a 3-year-old hurdle stakes at Middleburg, Va.

Photographer Jack Dewell of Elkton, Md., was a frequent contributor to Maryland Horse in the 1970s.

2025 Mid-Atlantic Stallion Directory

Pedigree page explanations

Included in this section are pedigrees and pertinent data on 54 Thoroughbred stallions standing at stud in the Mid-Atlantic region.

Statistics are accurate at least through Nov. 5, 2024. Statistics, as furnished by The Jockey Club Information Systems, Bloodstock Research Inc., Equibase and/or Daily Racing Form, include results from North America, England, Ireland, France, Italy and Japan. Foreign statistics for countries other than England, Ireland, France, Italy and Japan are included when available.

The Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred has adopted the following criteria for stakes qualification:

1. Winners of all stakes appear in boldface capitals.

2. Horses finishing second or third in stakes appear in boldface upper and lower case letters.

3. Horses finishing second or third in graded stakes, as defined by International Cataloguing Standards, appear in bold face upper and lower case letters.

Abbreviations: ntr—new track record, ncr—new course record, nAr—new American record, nCr—new Canadian record, nwr—new world record. An "e" substituted for "n" means "equals."

In Stud Records, the name of the sire of the dam appears in parentheses following the name of the stakes horse.

In Male Lines and Stud Records, progeny are arranged in order by champions, Grade 1 winners then stakes winners by earnings.

NOTICE: The eligibility status of stallions nominated to national or state breeders' programs (Breeders' Cup, Maryland Million, etc.) is dependent on the nominators' compliance with conditions, rules and regulations of those programs.

Mid-Atlantic Thoroughbred cannot assume responsibility for nominators' compliance with these regulations. Mare owners are advised to confirm eligibility with the stallion owners.

DOSAGE

Dosage is explained as follows by Dr. Steve Roman, preeminent authority on the dosage system, a mathematical method of measuring a horse's inclination toward speed or stamina based on the chefs-de-race, or influential sires, in his pedigree.

" 'Chefs' are assigned to one or two of five aptitudinal groups (Brilliant, Intermediate, Classic, Solid and Professional) covering the spectrum (from left to right) of speed to endurance. We assign a total potential value of 16 points to each generation. Since there are, progressively, one, two, four and eight sires in the first four generations, 'chefs' which appear among these sires will contribute 16, 8, 4 and 2 points each as we work back. The points for all 'chefs' present are then tallied in the appropriate aptitude columns. 'Chefs' which confer two aptitudinal characteristics have their points split between the two aptitudes. In the end, the total points in each column produce the Dosage Profile, a series of five numbers which reflect the relative proportions of each of the five aptitudes in this order: Brilliant-Intermediate-Classic-Solid-Professional.

"The ratio of points in the speed wing (Brilliant points + Intermediate points + ½ the Classic points) to points in the stamina wing (½ the Classic points + Solid points + Professional points) is the Dosage Index. (Dividing the stamina points into the speed points.) This number is directly proportional to the speed in a pedigree and inversely proportional to the stamina. A DI of 1.00 indicates a perfect balance of the two.

"Consider the five aptitude groups as points spaced equally along a linear scale where Brilliant is assigned a value of +2.00, Intermediate is +1.00, Classic is 0.00, Solid is -1.00 and Professional is -2.00, the DP allows for the calculation of the Center of Distribution, that point along the scale corresponding to the total combined influence of all 'chefs' in the pedigree. Calculation of the CD is done by taking the sum of (twice the Brilliant points) + (Intermediate points) - (Solid points) - (twice the Professional points) and dividing that number by the total points in the DP. An exact balance of speed and stamina yields a CD of 0.00."

PEDIGREE CROSS INDEX

This Pedigree Cross Index allows a breeder to nick, inbreed or outcross broodmares by easy reference. Indexed are the names of sires and dams within the first three generations of all stallions in the 2025 Stallion Directory.

Example: MEDAGLIA D'ORO - Alejandro, Endorsed, Enticed, Golden Lad

In the above example, Medaglia d'Oro appears in one of the first three generations of all the stallions listed after him.

Suppose a breeder has a mare that is a granddaughter of Mr. Prospector or has crosses of that sire in her pedigree. The breeder may want to breed her to a stallion with Northern Dancer blood to take advantage of the Northern Dancer—Mr. Prospector nick. Looking up "Northern Dancer" in this index can find stallions in this register with Northern Dancer in one of the first three generations of their pedigrees.

If a mare is a granddaughter of Seattle Slew, breeders may wish to inbreed to that stallion and get more of Seattle Slew's makeup in the foal. By checking "Seattle Slew" in the index, breeders can find all advertised stallions with Seattle Slew in their pedigrees.

What if a mare is already inbred or linebred? She might have 2 or 3 crosses of Deputy Minister in her first four generations for example. The breeder may want to make sure the stallion choice has no Deputy Minister or no Deputy Minister up close in his pedigree. Looking for "Deputy Minister" in the index can readily identify stallions in this Stallion Register to avoid for a mare.

The pedigree cross index was prepared by The Jockey Club Information Services.

In keeping with the original intent of the founders of the MHBA – to foster and preserve traditions pertaining to the horse everywhere in the state through education and by promoting the horse industry – the MHF supports a number of educational programs and oversees the maintenance of MarylandHorse.com. Additionally, the MHF is responsible for the operation of the Maryland Horse Library & Education Center, one of the anchor sites of the Maryland Horse Park System. We are proud to work directly with several industry partners in our endeavors to promote the entire Maryland Horse industry.

Thank you

The Maryland Horse Foundation expresses gratitude for the generosity of the private donors who made possible the creation of the Maryland Horse Library & Education Center and their continued support of its programs.

Maryland Horse Library & Education Center (MHLEC)

In April 2021, the MHF board launched a highly successful capital campaign to fund the MHLEC project. Construction began the following winter and the site hosted its grand opening in December 2022. Generous contributions from private donors combined with a capital grant not only exceeded the original campaign goal, but with more recent grants and fundraising efforts, continue to provide sole funding for MHLEC programs and expenditures.

The MHLEC honors the history of horses in Maryland and serves as a hub for learning and collaboration, ensuring a diverse and thriving industry far into the future. The largest library of its kind on the East Coast, MHLEC has thousands of books dedicated exclusively to horses. In addition to this non-lending, special collections reference library, MHLEC offers educational programs and exhibits, and meeting space for equine, agricultural and neighborhood groups.

Maryland Thoroughbred Career Program (MTCP)

Held annually since 2017, the Maryland Thoroughbred Career Program (MTCP) aims to increase awareness of the diverse career options in the Thoroughbred industry, give participants access to leaders in all facets of the Maryland Thoroughbred industry, and highlight various paths for pursuing a career in the Thoroughbred industry.

Work Experience Program (WEP)

The WEP was launched in 2018 to augment the MTCP experience. Qualified candidates are given the opportunity to gain real-life work experience in a field of their choice that may otherwise be difficult to obtain. This program is funded by a grant from the Thoroughbred Education Research Foundation (TERF).

The Howard & Sondra Bender Educational Series

Launched in 2023, the Howard & Sondra Bender Educational Series, hosted at the Maryland Horse Library & Education Center, utilizes the facility's resources to offer an educational series of in-person gatherings covering a wide range of topics for people involved in and/or interested in learning more about the Maryland horse and/or agricultural industries. These sessions are recorded and available for public viewing.

Maryland Horse Oral History Project

Begun in early 2024, this will be a collection of candid, unscripted recordings from Maryland horsemen, honoring and preserving the history of racing and breeding in the state.
